Adams County Youth Prepare For Pennsylvania Beef Expo

BIGLERVILLE (Adams Co.) — Youth from Adams County are going to be a major presence at this year's Pennsylvania Beef Expo.

The group of about 12 young people from the county's junior beef producers club have been grooming their animals and honing their beef knowledge in preparation for what is expected to be the largest expo since it began 14 years ago.

"It appears as though it will be the largest junior show ever," according to Glenn Eberly, director of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's Livestock Evaluation Center. "It grows every year."

The expo is set for March 27-30.

"This is the first year Adams County is taking a lot of animals," said Donna Byers, mother of three Biglerville-area youth who will be showing heifers at the expo Saturday, March 29.

Altogether, beef enthusiasts from Adams County plan to exhibit about 16 head.

The Byers brothers — Derek, 15; Dwight 13; and Devin, 9 — will each exhibit a yearling Charolais heifer at the show.

Neighbor James (J.R.) Arter, 15, will also be taking a heifer from the Byers's farm.

The four youth attend the Gettysburg Area School District and are active in county 4-H activities.

According to Donna Byers, the goal of the Adams County Junior Beef Producers is to provide kids with a special focus on beef skills.

Beside raising and showing beef animals, the group's activities include participating in the Beef Quality Assurance program, studying meat cuts, and learning breed characteristics and breeding principles. Members are planning to participate in this year's skillathon and quiz bowl at the expo.

"This group of kids really wants to learn about the beef industry," Donna Byers said.

Mothers and fathers play a big part in promoting the youths' interest in beef. Parents of participating youth are members of the Adams County Beef Producers. The junior club grew out of this adult group of beef lovers.

The Byers brothers have also been active in showing their beef animals at local fairs and at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

At the 2002 Farm Show, Derek exhibited the champion junior Charolais heifer and Dwight

KENNETT SQUARE (Chester Co.) — The Pennsylvania Beef Expo will be a girls' weekend out as the female members of the Walton family head to Penn State to be a part of the annual event.

In spite of the fact that their cattle are staying home, 4-H'ers Eliza and Leah Walton are planning to go to Happy Valley with their mother, Margaret, for the weekend to take part in the Skillathon and Quiz Bowl, among other cattle-related activities.

Eliza, 17, a senior at Unionville High School, plans to spend some time working behind the scenes for other exhibitors while Leah, 15, a sophomore at Unionville High School and Pennsylvania Angus Princess, will hand out ribbons during the show.

The Waltons, who also include father David and the girls' brother, Paul, 13, in seventh grade, own a 40-head cow-calf herd of registered purebred Angus. The Waltons market beef to local customers and sell club calves.

Their farm is a 300 acre family operation.

"I'm not taking them up because my cows aren't quite ready to be shown yet. I'm still working with them — one of them really hates show sticks and the rest need a lot of work leading and showing," said Leah.

Eliza, who has been very busy with school and track, didn't have the time she wanted "to really start to work them," she said, so her show cattle will also stay home.

The weekend is worth the time, even without cattle to show. "Especially when I work for people up there," said Eliza, "I learn about how they handle their show string."

The expo also provides an opportunity to "see what kind of animals people are going to bring to the show — it's kind of a preview show for the rest of the year," said Eliza.

For instance, working for others offers the opportunity to learn

Wheat Scab, Mildew Controls Topic Of Field Day

LANDISVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — Control of wheat diseases can be less of a challenge if crop managers learn about how the troublesome organisms operate.

About 30 certified crop consultants and agri-industry representatives scrutinized two wheat diseases Wednesday during a Penn State-sponsored Wheat Scouting and Pest Management Field Day at the Landisville Research Center.

One disease, powdery mildew, can be controlled through proper resistant variety selection. Another, head scab, can be more of a problem, depending on field and environmental conditions before and after planting.

Management strategies, according to Eric DeWolf, Penn State assistant professor of plant pathology, must involve deciding whether the pathogens survive in typical corn residue. Also, the

Compared to Thursday, slaughter steers sold fully 50-1 00 higher The quality of the run was mixed on Monday with some over-fed under-fed and heavy cattle on offer although despite the mix prices still trended up to a 1 00 higher Tuesday's run included some well finished steers which added some spark to a market that is losing a little ground every week with most of the increase in the early week bids noted in Tuesday's run The high Choice and Prime stock that was available in Tuesday s run was unable to be trended as it has been a couple of weeks since we have seen the good kind There is a noticeable increase in under-finished cattle in Lancaster County One reason is producers fear the longer they wait to bring them to town the less they will bring as the Board remains very bearish this summer The April live cattle contract is currently at 73 80, with the summer months still in the 66 00-68 00 range Another reason steers are coming to town is due to the extremely dry summer of 2002 which left many of the producers corn supply very low and if there is nothing to feed them then the only logical solution is to send them to the sale barn Unfortunately there is no significant news on the horizon that will calm the cattlemen's mind, especially with what seems to be an inevitable war in the next few days, which only time will tell what effect invading Iraq will have on the red meat market Slaughter Holstein steers sold steady with a weaker undertone noted on Monday s run However the real test was on Tuesday as a good supply of the spotted stock was on offer with most of the Holsteins lacking the finish that was noted in the Thursday run There were not a lot of slaughter heifers on offer with the two day run trending near steady Lean slaughter cows sold steady to weak, with Breaking and Boning cows trading 50-1 00 lower The fleshier cows have lost some steam over the past few weeks with the Lean supply not hit as hard yet due to continued moderate to firm demand Slaughter bulls were not compared to Thursday as a good majority of the light run came through the door on the full side The supply included 44 percent steers (397 head) 6 percent heifers (60 head) 44 percent cows (397 head) 1 percent bulls (12 head) with the balance feeder cattle

Compared to Tuesday, Choice slaughter steers sold fully steady, with all other grades trading steady to weak You will notice the prices quoted below are around a full 1 00 higher than last week's Thursday run but they were only steady with Tuesday as buyers put the 1 00 New Holland lost last week on this week s Monday and Tuesday runs There was not a good supply of high Choice and Prime stock on hand and the few on offer were weighing up pretty full Buyers looking for the quality steers had their hands tied, although they were able to resort to a surprisingly large, and well finished, heifer supply to fill loads The low Choice and Select buyers were able to step in and at times put a little spark in the trade, although it was only short lived as most bids failed to match the early week runs The Western direct feed yards were moving their live steers 1 00-2 00 higher as of Thursday at 78 00 in Texas and from 78 00-78 50 in Kansas and Nebraska This weeks cash trade holds around a 4 00 premium to the April live cattle contract at the Merc, which closed at 74 85 on Thursday, and no one is taking their eyes off of the bearish June contract which is sitting around 68 00 (a full 10 00 discount to the current cash trade) The Choice Slaughter Holstein steer supply sold as much as 1 00 higher, with not enough high quality spotted stock available early in the week to test the top end of the market Trading was very active on the Holsteins, as a few buyers turned to owning them over the colored cattle as they carried some pretty good finish As mentioned above, the slaughter heifer supply saw a surprising influx in receipts as nearly 140 head went through the ring There were not near the heifer numbers early in the week to compare to, but a firmer undertone was definitely noted Breaking and Boning cows managed to hold near steady with only instances of weakness noted However, the Lean cow supply did not have the same buyer support as the fleshier cows received as they trended a full 1 00-2 00 lower Buyer attendance was good for the fleshier-types, but lighter than normal for the Lean cows It does not help the lean cow market when the cutter cow carcass cutout value losses over 4 00 over the past two days either The early week bull run was made up of mostly full stock, therefore the Thursday run was not comparable, there was a weaker undertone noted when compared to last week's run The reported supply included 29 percent steers (364 head), 11 percent heifers (138 head) 46 percent cows (581 head), 6 percent bulls (74 head) with the balance feeder cattle

New Holland Hog Auction
NEW HOLLAND, PA
March 17, 2003
Report Supplied By Auction

Receipts: 656. Last Week 772, Last Year 885

Compared to last week, barrows and gilts sold fully 1.00 higher, with instances of 2.00 higher in moderately active to active trading. The quality of the run was improved, with buyers taking notice as they actively pursued the better ones. Western terminal market hogs closed from 35.00-36.00 on Friday, with prices for the 220-270 pounders as high as 37.00 at times last week. Never-the-less, the firmer Western trade has added a positive upturn to the local trade. All hogs are sold by the pound, with actual weights.

Percent Lean Weight Price 49-54 220-275 lbs 34.85-37.50, up to 38.25 late 280-295 lbs 32.00-35.50 45-50 few 220-270 lbs 34.00-35.00 280-330 lbs 31.25-34.50 40-45 220-270 lbs 32.00-34.25 315-340 lbs 29.00-30.75

New Holland Feeder Pig Auction
NEW HOLLAND, PA
March 12, 2003
Report Supplied By USDA

Receipts 411 Last Week: 277 Year Ago: 455.

Compared to last week's light run, U.S. 1-2 slaughter pigs weighing 20-30 lbs sold steady to weak; with a very good supply of 30-40 lb pigs trading 15.00-40.00 lower. Number 1-2 pigs weighing over 40 lbs were not tested due to last week's light run. Buyers were interested in owning the 30-40 pounders but with 135 head on offer prices definitely were lower towards the end of the run as demand began to waiver. The U.S. 2 supply was very light last week, with this week's supply trending with a lower undertone. Nearly 100 percent of the run went to slaughter. All pigs were weighed and graded on arrival and sold by the hundred weights.

Head Weight Price Slaughter U.S. 1-2 89 20-26 lbs 100.00-127.00, fancy lot 160.00 135 30-38 lbs 92.00-137.00, large lot late 65.00 40 44-50 lbs 62.00-70.00 3 60 lbs 62.00 18 113-120 lbs 47.00-50.00

March 19, 2003
Report Supplied By USDA

Trade sentiment was mixed, ranging steady to weak, mostly barely steady to weak. Demand was seasonally slow to fair with few trades occurring. Supplies of all sizes were adequate to ample and frequently discounted to help move. In the parts structure, trading for mid-week was slow and unaggresssive to light with availability of all items at least adequate. In production areas, live supplies were moderate at desirable to heavy weights.

The OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC THIS WEEK WITH

MARDON ME, PADAM

Will posterity recall your accomplishments? Or as in the case of Reverend William Archibald Spooner your accidental slips of the tongue? Spooner was warden of New College Oxford University, from 1903 to 1924. One day he was announcing the hymn, Conquering Kings Their Titles Take, but instead said, 'Kinquering Kongs Their Litles Take,' and in one 'swell foop' the spoonerism was born. Oxford students wasted no time producing their own examples and attributing them to the warden. Luckily Spooner had a sense of humor and even added more of his own misspoken expressions to the growing collection which includes: It's kistomary to cuss the bride half-warmed fish and blushing crow.

No one is exempt from talking nonsense; the mistake is to do it solemnly.

–Michel Eyquem de Montaigne, French essayist (1533–1592)

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER PROVERBS

A bushel of March dust is worth a king's ransom

TIP OF THE WEEK

Panama hats can be cleaned with white soap and water on a clean sponge. Rinse well.

MAPLE CUSTARD

4 eggs
1/2 cup maple syrup
1 3/4 cups scalded milk pinch of salt
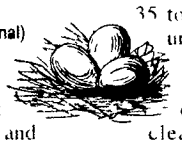
chopped nuts (optional)



Preheat oven to 325°F. Beat together eggs and maple syrup; then slowly stir in the scalded milk and salt. Place six custard cups into a pan of hot water and fill the cups with the custard. Bake for 35 to 45 minutes or until a sharp knife inserted into the center of the custard comes out clean. Serve warm or chilled. Garnish with chopped nuts, if desired.

Makes 6 single custards.

OPINION

For Farmers, Every Day Is National Ag Day

We learned from our friends at AgWeb.com (the people who produce Farm Journal) that National Ag Day marks its 30th anniversary on the first day of spring, which was Friday. A day to realize that food is hard to come by, and is perhaps a privilege, not a right.

Quoting President Bush: "A nation that can feed its people is a nation more secure."

Yet we hear the proposed budget cutbacks in the state and nation. Our leaders continue to take the inexpensive, environmentally friendly ways farmers produce food for granted.

War rages in Iraq. In the end, perhaps when it is over, we will see a recovery brought about by less expensive oil. That would be a boost to modern agriculture.

But why take just one day to recognize the value of agriculture? How about those who will now starve in Iraq while we sit in the comfort of out homes, eating popcorn and watching on Fox or CNN what goes on over in the Gulf?

Many organizations are already reaching out, wanting to restore order to a troubled part of the country. How long it will take is anybody's guess.

I only hope Congress takes time out to realize the recovery efforts, after the war ends, will be expensive and to not forget the farmer's contribution to the efforts.

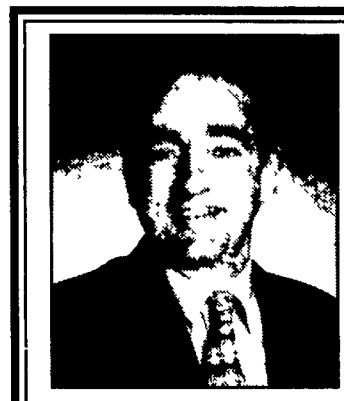
Some happy news:

Did you know that Pennsylvania's 61 commercial trout growers sold 1 64 million pounds of trout valued at $4.56 million during 2002? This was down from the 1.88 million pounds valued at $4.89 million sold in 2000, according to Marc Tosiano in his monthly column in Lancaster Farming, Agriculture Counts. Only Wisconsin has more trout growers than Pennsylvania, with 65 operations.

But Pennsylvania ranks first in the nation for the value of trout distributed for conservation and recreational purposes. With a value of $10.8 million, Pennsylvania accounts for 16.6 percent of the nation's distributed trout. This includes trout released by state hatcheries, cooperative nurseries, and private fishing clubs.

Also, you think all prices for farm commodities are headed backward? Check out something else from Marc's column. Did you know that in 2002, Pennsylvania honey producers received an average price of $1.30 per pound, compared to 92 cents the year before?

For some ag commodities, celebrating National Ag Day is, well, honey on the cake!



Now Is The Time

By Leon Ressler

Lancaster County Extension Director

To Improve Pastures With Frost- Or No-Till Seeding

Pennsylvania has about 3 million acres of pastureland, much of which is not producing as much forage as it could.

Bob Anderson, Lancaster County agronomy agent, points out that studies have shown that the productivity of pastures can be improved two or three fold through renovation. Grass pastures can be interseeded with a legume to improve both the total dry matter yield and the quality of the forage based on feeding value.

Pasture renovation is hindered in many places because the land is too steep and would have a severe erosion problems if plowed for reseeding. Methods whereby this land could be improved without use of tillage would provide a means to improve productivity and profitability without the high risk of erosion inherent in conventional methods of pasture improvement. Two excellent alternatives are frost seeding and no-till drilling.

Frost seeding, referred to as snow seeding by some, can be used to establish a legume in existing grass pastures. The legume seed is broadcast on the soil surface in early spring. The normal freezing and thawing of the soil surface at this time of the year combined with early spring rains help to incorporate and germinate the seed. The key to success with this method is to seed at the proper time and to follow up with rotational grazing or mowing in order to reduce the competition from the grass already in the pasture.

A study in Michigan showed that legume yields were reduced by 50 percent the year following seeding if grasses were not suppressed in the seeding year. Grass suppression is vital for seedling establishment when legumes are frost-seeded into grass sod.

Red clover is an excellent choice for frost seeding because it is tolerant of cold soil temperatures. In addition, it has good vigor and is one of the easiest legumes to establish. Clover is also more tolerant of wet soil conditions and low soil pH than other legumes.

For a successful frost seeding, select a site that can be grazed closely to reduce grass competition. Soil test and correct pH and fertility problems before or shortly after seeding. Seeding should be done while the ground is still frozen. Seeding on snow is satisfactory if the snow depth is not great, since rapid melting may cause loss of seed through runoff. A cyclone seeder or seeder attachment on the back of a tractor will work well.

Recommendations for no-till seeding are similar to the frost seeding. Early seeding is key to the successful establishment of the legume. Seed as early as possible; however, avoid seeding in wet conditions.

To Apply Nitrogen To Small Grains

Now that most of the snow is gone, it is time to think about the first agronomic job of the spring — topdressing small grain with nitrogen. The rate and timing of spring-applied nitrogen depends on several factors.

The first factor is growth stage. If the plants are at growth stage 2 (main stem and one or two tillers) or less, apply the nitrogen as soon as plants start "greening up." If the plants are past growth stage two, the nitrogen can be applied from "green-up" to growth stage 5 (early erect growth). Refer to the "2003 Agronomy Guide," available at your local extension office, for a description of growth stages. The 2003 agronomy guide is available on the Internet at http://agguide.agronomy.psu.edu/.

The nitrogen rate will depend on anticipated yield, previous crop yield, previous fertilizer amounts, and frequency and amount of manure applied. Each bushel of wheat grain produced will require 1.3 to 1.5 pounds of nitrogen. Estimating the amount that will be supplied by the soil is important. Excessive nitrogen applications effect profitability, increase disease pressures, increase lodging potential, decrease yields, and increase the potential for nitrogen leaching. Inadequate nitrogen also affects profitability since it will result in reduced yield.

One of the major factors affecting soil available nitrogen is frequency of manure applications. Research indicates that when fields are manured every one or two years, one should apply 0 to 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre. If applied every three to four years, one should apply 30 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre. When applied less frequently, one should apply 60 to 90 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Winter barley has less resistance to lodging then wheat; therefore, the nitrogen rates should be reduced accordingly. Keep the nitrogen rates between 45 and 60 pounds per acre when manure is not applied frequently to the field. When manure is frequently applied, use only 0 to 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Quote Of The Week:

"The road to underdevelopment is paved with good intentions. The worst thing that aid does is destroy initiative and create a sense of entitlement."

— Author Paul Theroux writing on the challenges of western relief work in Africa.

WHERE IS YOUR AUTHORITY?

Background Scripture:
Mark 6:1-13.
Devotional Reading:
John 12:44-50.

In some ways, since Jesus' times, the world hasn't changed as much as we might expect. For example, in Mark 6:1-6, Jesus' countrymen were both amazed at the authority he exuded and incredulous that such authority could reside in someone local. "Where did this man get all this? . . . Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary and brother of James and Joseph and Judas and Simon?" How could a local boy make good on such a high level? So, although they were intrigued by the authority with which he spoke, "they took offense at him."

That happens today, too, doesn't it?

Many years ago when I was an undergraduate at the University of Pennsylvania, I was a member in the campus drama group. There was one fellow thespian who never seemed to do much in this busy organization, just sat around and plinked on the piano a lot. "Boy, there's one guy who will never make it in the entertainment world," I opined. It seemed like a very safe prophecy, but 10 years later I saw his name as director of some of the movie industry's most successful films. I was both amazed and chastened, just as Jesus' countrymen would be today.

In Our Own Country

Jesus' response is still as true today as it was then: "A prophet is not without honor, except in his own country, and in his own house" (6:4). He was right about many of his neighbors and also about his own family. Mark tells us that, when he went to his own home, his friends "went out to seize him, for they said, 'He is beside himself'" (3:21) and John tells us "For even his brothers did not believe in him" (Jn. 7;5).

Halford E. Luccock said, "They had all the physical facts about this strange man, his birth, his occupation, his home and family. That is all they needed the obvious facts." But, as both Jesus' neighbors and his family would learn, there is usually a lot more to a person we think we know than the obvious facts. "Our world is ridden with 'factfinders'" who look no further than the facts.

Eventually, his family and friends would realize that this local boy, whom they thought they knew so well, carried an authority in himself that was messianic. But they also were to learn that Jesus could bestow authority on his disciples who came from the very lowest levels of society. These men seemed the least likely to share in the mission of the messiah. Still, Jesus sent "them out two by two and gave them authority over unclean spirits" (6:7). Jesus first called them to "come," but now the command is to "go!" Lots of people like the first part of that, but never get around to the "go" part.

Badge Of Authority

This is important for us to remember: the authority of Jesus is his not only to keep, but to share with those who follow him. That's us. But, let's make certain we understand what this authority is: to preach, to heal, and to cast out evil.

Our authority is not to act in an authoritarian manner, but to use our authority to help others. And this is what they did: "So they went out and preached that men should repent. And they cast out many demons, and anointed with oil many that were sick and healed them" (6:13). That is and has always been the church's badge of authority. If we are not doing those things today, can we be the Church?

Mark tells us, "And he could do no mighty work there, except that he laid his hands on a few sick people and healed them. And he marveled because of their unbelief." (3:5,6). Despite the authority of Jesus, he was limited in what he could do by the lack of faith on the part of the people.

Mark says Jesus "could do no mighty work there," while Matthew makes it "did not do." I think Mark's "could" is more helpful for us, because we too often forget that the power of God in Christ needs to work in the context of faith. I have always observed that the greatest results are respondent not to disbelief, but faith.

John Roche is one of two Irish brothers who will share views on untapped grazing potential at the PFGC Grazing Conference March 5 and 6.

Irish Brothers, Genetic Researcher On Slate

GRANTVILLE (Dauphin Co) — This year's Pennsylva nia Forage and Grazing Con ference will take place March 5 and 6 at the Holiday Inn in Grantville

This conference has some thing for forage producers and graziers at all levels of experi ence The conference is spon sored jointly by the PFGC, the Pennsylvania Grazing Re search and Education Center Pennsylvania's Grazing Lands Conservation Initiative, and Penn State Extension

The first day of the confer ence kicks off with brothers John and Tom Roche John works as a grazing researcher/consultant in New Zealand, and Tom manages the home dairy farm in Ire land These brothers have re cently been exploring the pos sibilities of starting a grazing dairy here in the U S Over the course of the conference they will discuss hands on' expe riences as well as differences similarities and opportunities of grass farming in the U S and around the world

Other talks on the first day will include topics such as ani mal genetics for grazing (sure to stimulate discussion), effec tiveness of equipment to speed hay drying keeping and using accurate farm records, large rectangular bale storage and marketing, and health con cerns of animals on pasture

Dr Steve Washburn from North Carolina State Univer sity will be leading the discus sion on animal genetics for grazing The evening of the first day will include discus sion sessions between attend ees and speakers

The second day of the con ference starts with a look at grazing and family life, im pact of the Farm Bill and new regulations on forage and grazing farms and pasture maintenance Presentations include recognizing the chal lenges of grassfed beef, farmer health concerns and farm lia bility The day continues with a presentation by the Roche brothers on grazing opportu nities in the Northeast The conference will conclude with a brief 'wrap up' session and awarding of door prizes.

Producers will give many of the presentations during the two day conference

The PFGC will conduct its annual reception and awards program Wednesday evening, followed by informal discus sions with the day's present ers

The conference will also in clude a trade show with com-

Nevin Mast discusses his crossbreeding program during a pasture walk on his Berks County dairy farm last September. Dr. Steve Washburn, one of the presenters set to speak at the upcoming PFGC conference, joined the group of graziers on Mast's farm.

OLEY (Berks Co) — Nevin Mast has been crossbreeding Holsteins and Jerseys for about 10 years

'I just like the cross so well' the dairyman said dur ing a pasture walk on his or ganically certified farm last September

Mast hosted about a dozen farmers who were interested in seeing his grazing opera tion during the group was Mena Hautau Berks County extension agent and Dr Steve Washburn a dairy researcher from North Carolina State University

Grass and hay are the main source of feed for the 50 cows on Mast s 110 acre farm He supplements milking cows with 12 14 pounds of grain per day Heifers between the age of four months and their first calving receive no grain

Advantages of the Holstein/Jersey cross include easier breeding and calving hybrid vigor, and greater sur vivability, according to Mast and Washburn

The biggest gains are in the survivability traits said Washburn who studies the benefits of crossbreeding in dairy herds He predicted that crossbreeds will have an in creasing impact on commer cial dairy production in the future

Washburn is one of the speakers slated for the upcom ing Pennsylvania Forage and Grazing Conference sched uled for March 5 and 6 in Grantville

A typical average first-con ception rate for purebred Hol steins when using artificial in semination is between 30 and 40 percent In crossbreeds, that number can reach nearly 50 percent, according to Washburn

Washburn said dairy farm ers need to have a plan when it comes to crossbreeding The plan should include research ing the fertility of the daugh ters of bulls used in the cross breeding program and knowing the bulls production data While hardiness and re productive traits are impor tant production must be a primary goal

As Washburn put it, "Milk still pays the bills

In crossbred cows produc tion levels tend toward the higher-producing breed, he noted

While Jersey and Holstein genetics make up the main part of the gene pool on Mast's farm he also enjoys experimenting with different types of crossbreeding For ex ample, Mast said he recently purchased a White Park bull to breed to some of his heifers

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co) — Project Grass is on the move.

Last year, the grassroots grassland management group expanded to include every re gion of Pennsylvania, and has been at work developing new programs to foster grass based farming and conservation practices in the state

Last November marked the first-ever Project Grass Con ference More than 100 people attended the two day event at State College

The conference included presentations on the history of Project Grass — first formed in Southwest Pennsylvania in 1980 research findings on the economic and environmental benefits of livestock grazing

Daily National Grain Market Summary

St. Joseph, MO
March 12, 2002
Report Supplied By USDA

Wheat bids were pressured by moisture reported in the hard red winter wheat growing areas overnight and today. South Koreas wheat purchase overnight was not enough to push bids higher. Corn bids were slightly higher on optimism for better than expected weekly export sales numbers tomorrow. Recent declines in corn pits have also been seen as overdone. Soybean bids failed to hold on to Tuesdays sharp advances as fund selling on the Board pressured bids. Talks of another possible US sale to China, limited losses. Wheat steady to 4 cents lower. Corn 1 to 3 cents higher. Sorghum 3 cents higher. Soybeans 3 to 7 cents lower.

Fungicide Rotation Controls Diseases in Grapes

Black rot is one of the most serious diseases of cultivated and wild grapes The disease is most destructive in warm wet seasons The fungus attacks all green parts of the vine and unsprayed fruit on susceptible varieties may become almost completely rotted by harvest

Unlike most grape diseases free moisture on the leaves is actually detrimental for powdery mildew Thus this disease is a more serious problem in drier growing climates or seasons when it is too dry for other grape diseases

Since diseases like black rot and powdery mildew can have such devastating effects on grapes its important to construct your program from fungicides that control the key diseases and can be rotated to prevent resistance Initiating a preventive program using both Dithane® and Nova® 40W fungicides when new shoots are 1 to 3 inches high will control these key diseases while protecting against resistance

A protectant fungicide like Dithane covers the outside of the plant killing fungus spores as they germinate Dithane with Rainshield® technology redistributes after rain fall which adds to its effectiveness Dithane is an excellent agent for the control of black rot and its multi-site mode of action makes it an excellent resistance management tool

Among systemic fungicides none is better for the control of powdery mildew and black rot than Nova It is absorbed into the plant and kills the fungus early in the infection process before symptoms appear Nova has about three days of back action and can be sprayed on a 14-day interval

Rotate Dithane and Nova early season then rotate Nova with strobilurin fungicides midseason to manage resistance Be sure to use Nova during the summer for improved late-season disease control

For more information about using Dithane or Nova for disease control in grapes contact your local agretailer

CANADIAN DAIRY INDUSTRY FACES UNCERTAINTIES

• Special exports no longer allowed.

• New WTO may allow more imports.

• Implications for Canada.

I just returned from speaking at the Western Canadian Dairy Seminar in Red Deer, Alberta. Alberta of course is a Canadian Province sitting west of the Rockies. My topic was, "Milk Protein Concentrate Imports: Implications For the North American Dairy Industry."

I participated in a Dairy Farm Policy section chaired by Dr. Ellen Goddard. The keynote speaker was Wade Armstrong, New Zealand High Commissioner to Canada. Armstrong did an excellent job of discussing the new trade proposals at the ongoing Doha Round of the World Trade Organization, or WTO.

The WTO will have implications for the dairy industry in the U.S., Canada, and New Zealand. His take-home message was that all the proposals call for further opening of domestic borders to imports (greater market access), lower tariffs (on over-quota dairy products), and an eventual elimination of export subsidies. My interpretation of his remarks was he painted Canadian dairy policy as highly restrictive and protectionist, and thus less likely to benefit from these WTO proposals.

The High Commissioner also discussed the WTO Appellate decision regarding Canadian export subsidies. Both the U.S. and New Zealand vigorously pursued this case to the WTO over a five-year period. Basically Canada's provincially run export program was challenged as an export subsidy that was outside existing trade rules.

I spoke to a few Canadian dairy farmers after the conference. They said that the Canadian export program did not involve government logistics. Farmers would contract directly with a U.S. processor. That was possible because the transaction did not require government subsidies, and there were no quotas on raw milk in the U.S. (Really?) The Canadian farmer would get the price that was negotiated with the U.S. processor. I understood that this price was somewhere between the low world price and the higher U.S. price.

Even if this special export program did not involve the Canadian government, one could see two potential problems for the U.S. First, the program would realistically involve "pooling" the

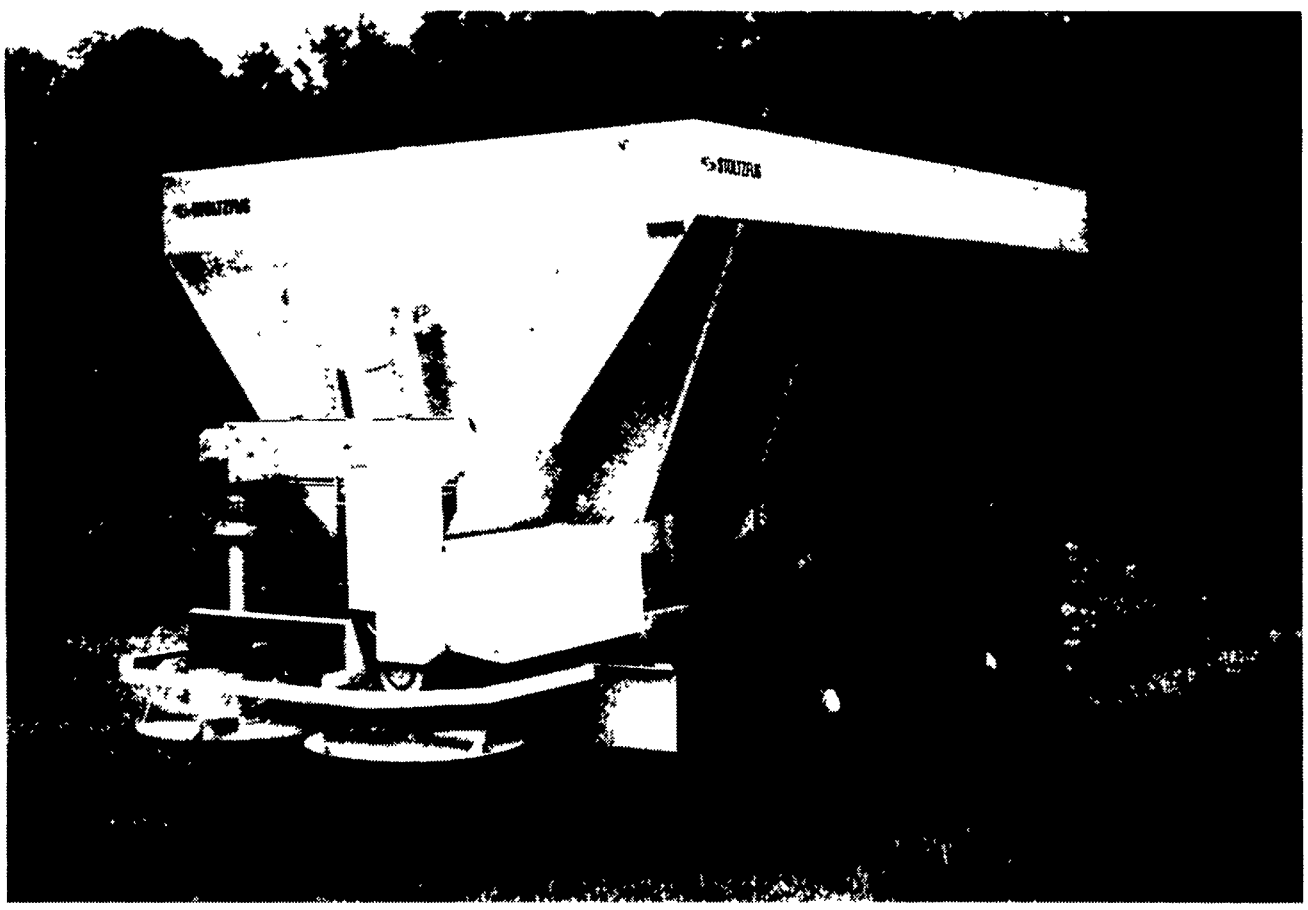
Sometimes You Need a Spreader Built Like A Tank



When spreading stockpiled lime, for example. The Stoltzfus Wet Lime Spreader is likely the most powerful spreader of its kind on the market today. You see, we've been building them since 1945, and farmers are still using Stoltzfus Wet Lime Spreaders they've had for 20, even 30 years. Our special drag chain is 4 times stronger than stainless steel, and handles frozen and heavy stockpiled lime with ease. Plus for spreading compost, composted sludge, poultry litter and certain fertilizers, the WLS is without equal for sheer volume spreading.

Cut your fertilizer bill by liberating nutrients tied up by acid soil.

Use Lime.

- Two-ton, five-ton, eight-ton models

Chester County Holstein Enthusiasts Tour Lebanon Tiestall Operations

DAVE LEFEVER
Lancaster Farming Staff

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — In Lebanon County, the number of dairy farms with tiestall barns seems relatively high compared to some other areas. In many parts of Pennsylvania and the rest of the country, freestall operations are a more common sight.

Some people might think this is because Lebanon County dairy producers are behind the times or even stubborn about making changes.

Farmers here would say the opposite.

Scott and Karen Nolt, for example, recently built a new barn with 80 tiestalls alongside the 100-stall barn that Scott's parents, Allen and Carol, built in 1996. For the Nolt family, tiestalls are part of a progressive management program that includes good cow care and high production.

The Nolt's Country Path Farm was one of four farm stops in the south Lebanon area for a busload of Chester County Holstein Club members on their annual Holstein tour March 14.

Scott Nolt is the fourth generation on the farm, previously owned by his mother Carol (Ziegler) Nolt's parents and grandparents. Scott and Karen are now managing the dairy herd while Allen takes care of most of the fieldwork. The family raises most of the forages for the cows and replacement stock on the 125-acre home farm along with some rented land.

The Nolt family, along with two fulltime hired men and some part-time help, are milking 170 cows four times a day (4X) in this setup. With a rolling herd average of 30,856 pounds of milk, 1,064 of fat, and 924 of protein, they believe it's working for them.

"I like the individual attention (to the cows) and not having to work with the manure so much," Scott said on why he chose tiestalls over a freestall/parlor operation.

The new stalls are bedded with sand spread on top of rubber "sand traps" — tire strips cut 4 inches wide and packed on edge in the stalls to help reduce the amount of sand needed. Curbs at the rear of the stall also help save sand from being pushed back into the gutter.

Sand is blown into the stalls every four or five days with a blower attachment on a skid loader.

"In five minutes, I have the barn bedded up," Scott said.

Since they started using sand for bedding, the Nolts have had to treat very few cows for mastitis, and have seen their somatic cell counts drop to an average of 120,000 or lower. They are so impressed with the performance that they have begun to replace with sand the cow mats installed less than two years ago in the 1996 barn.

An abundance of good help on the farm, plus an openness to new ideas, made Scott first decide to try 4X milking a little less than two months ago. Since then, the cows have increased their milk production eight pounds per cow per day to about 110 pounds on average.

The Nolts treat their cows with BST hormone to boost production. The 4X milking, besides helping to maximize milk output, should promote cow longevity, according to Scott.

"If you milk them more often, you're helping to support the udders," he said.

The herd is milked in six-hour intervals at 4 a.m., 10 a.m., 4 p.m., and 10 p.m. With two people running 10 automatic-takeoff milkers, each milking takes about two and half hours.

Scott Nolt, left, talks to Chester County visitors about the tiestall setup.

"People say I'm crazy," Scott said, of choosing to milk four times a day. "But I'm not trying to prove anything.

"The help is everything. We like it, they (the hired workers) like it, and the cows love it."

Karen helps with the 4 a.m. milking while Scott stays in the house to babysit their two daughters, Katelyn, 3, and Jessica, 6 months. That arrangement allows Karen to stay involved with the cows, even while the children are small. For her, it's a priority.

"Karen's a milker," Allen Nolt

Allen Nolt milked cows on the farm for several decades before building the first new tiestall barn in 1996.

A Dry Cow Booster That Costs 7¢ a Day

Hoffmans Horse and Cattle Powder is an ideal tonic for cows over freshening. Feed 6 wks before freshening 1 Tablespoon a day (Two weeks over freshening, feed 1 Tablespoon in the morning & 1 Tablespoon in evening)

Cows will clean better after freshening Cows have a lower somatic cell count and will have less mastitus problems. Great for reproduction tract and cows will cycle better after freshening Will help rumen function over freshening. Less feet problems and less stress.

This is an over-all good booster if fed to dry cows, and it will pay you big dividends said. "She loves cows."

The rest of the milking chores are divided so that no person milks more than twice a day, and hired workers get every other weekend off.

According to Dan Gard, local BST supplier, at least one producer in the area is even milking six times a day.

The tour group also visited the farms of Karl and Daniel Brandt, Vincent and Juliet Wagner, and Bruce and Bev Bollinger.

The Bollingers have a unique situation in that their herd of some 70 Holsteins is housed in a tiestall barn and milked in a double-6 parlor. The setup was built in 1981 when Bruce Bollinger and his brother planned a herd expansion. But the brother later "changed his career plans," Bruce said.

The herd is notable for a high conception rate, with most of the heifers calving at 2 years of age or less.

The main goal of his breeding program, Bruce said, is to produce "cows that last."

All replacements are raised on the farm, and the herd has been closed for a number of years.

The Bollingers have supplemented the milk check by selling a number of bulls for stud service, as well as females to other farms.

Last year, the Bollingers sold 25 Holsteins for dairy purposes. Two cows in the herd are contracted to stud providers — one for a Convincer calf, another for an Emerson. The contracted calves will be born naturally.

The Bollingers maintain an involuntary cull rate of between 16 and 18 percent, with a herd average of 24,228 pounds of milk, 877 of fat, and 749 of protein — without using BST.

After trying the hormone several years ago, Bollinger said he has since opted to focus on cow longevity, preferring the financial benefits of selling young stock over the extra milk production.

Bruce's parents, Robert and Edith, originally bought the 135-acre dairy farm in 1971. Robert still helps with the fieldwork in growing corn silage, hay, and protein sources for the milking herd and replacements on a total of 260 acres, including rented land.

Now Bruce and Bev's children are also beginning to help on the dairy. They are Becky, 10; Bradley, 8; Brenda, 6; and Bethany, 4.

"We're a unit," Bruce said.

Cows bedded with sand on the Nolt farm have premium-level somatic cell counts, averaging 120,000 or less.

March 27 - 30
Penn State Ag Arena

PCA Banquet Scheduled

STATE COLLEGE, (Centre Co.) — The Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association (PCA) awards banquet has been scheduled for Thursday, March 27, at Celebrations Hall, near the Nittany Mall, State College.

The festivities will begin with a social hour at 6 p.m., followed by a prime rib dinner at 7 p.m. Cattle producers will be recognized during this special evening for several awards including the Industry Service Award, Commercial Cattleman, Seedstock Breeder, and Cattle Feeder of the Year. Producers will also be recognized with the Environmental Stewardship Award for their dedication to preserving agriculture and the environment for future generations.

In addition, the 2003 Cattlemen's Beef Ambassadors will be announced and three scholarships for college undergraduates will be presented. There will also be special award presentations by organizations affiliated with PCA.

Banquet reservations should be made by March 21 by calling or faxing the PCA office at (814) 238-5888 or e-mailing llw@psu.edu. More information about PCA, the PA Beef Expo and other beef industry activities can be reviewed on the PCA Website: www.pacattle.org.

The PCA Annual Meeting will be held in conjunction with the Awards Banquet. New directors will be elected at this time. Nominations for the PCA Board of Directors should be forwarded to the PCA Office, 862 Webster Drive, State College, PA 16801. Nominees must be members of PCA.

The PCA Awards Banquet will kick off the 2003 Pennsylvania Beef Expo which includes the trade show, performance-tested bull sale, purebred female sales, and several junior events including the beef skill-a-thon, beef quiz bowl, junior heifer and steer shows.

2003 Summer Cattlemen's Field Day Scheduled

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — The 2003 Summer Cattlemen's Field Day is scheduled for Saturday, July 19, with the main location at EM-TRAN, Elizabethtown, with tours later in the day of the Dwight Hess feedlot, and Donegal Stream where there are unique environmentally-fr endly enhancements to stream bank and related improvements.

The field day presentations will include some of the technological advances in practicing artificial insemination and embryo transfer in both beef and dairy cattle, and will emphasize some of the improvements in synchronizing and detecting estrus. Cyagra, the parent company of EM-TRAN, is also internationally known for livestock cloning and preservation. The latter topics will be discussed and demonstrated via video recording.

The tentative program includes information on legislative/regulatory issues, new estrous detection methods, ova transfer, and the reason, bioethics, and methods of farm animal cloning.

Cloning benefits and risks will be addressed. The day is co-sponsored by the Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association, Pennsylvania. Angus Association, and the Pennsylvania Grazing Lands Coalition.

PA BEEF EXPOSITION

Scope Of Pa. Cattle Industry

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — There are about 12,000 different owners of beef cattle in Pennsylvania.

There are 175,000 beef cows of calving age, and about 250,000 cattle are on feed annually. There are two large beef packing plants in Pennsylvania; Taylor's Beef at Wyalusung (tenth largest beef packer in the U.S.) and MOPAC at Souderton eighth largest beef packer in the US). Because of these two large beef packers, there are over 1 million head of cattle (beef and dairy origin) harvested annually.

Pennsylvania's seedstock herds, just like the commercial herds, range in size from 15 head to over 200 head, and are dispersed around the state.

The main areas for cow-calf production are in the southwest part of the state, but the beef cow herd is the primary method of harvesting hill-land pasture in all sections of the state.

Cattle feeding is concentrated in the southeast part of the state, but practiced throughout southern and middle parts of the state.

The family, including father Dale Byers, keeps a total of about 30 Charolais and Angus cows. From May to October, the herd is transported to 150 acres of pasture land within the Gettysburg National Military Park.

In wintertime, the herd is housed and fed on the Byers's 18-acre home farm. The family also rents another 78 acres of farmland.

Derek Byers washes his yearling Charolais heifer in preparation for the Pennsylvania Beef Expo this week.

PCA To Present Scholarships

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association will present two additional scholarships this year to young persons who are planning a career in the cattle industry.

Pfizer Animal Health Company, Inc. provides funding for one of the $500 scholarships in connection with Pfizer's Dectomax Extra Education Dollars ('DEED') program. The Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association provides the second $500 scholarship from the PCA general fund.

Winners will be awarded scholarships at the annual Pennsylvania Cattlemen' s Association Banquet on Thursday, March 28.

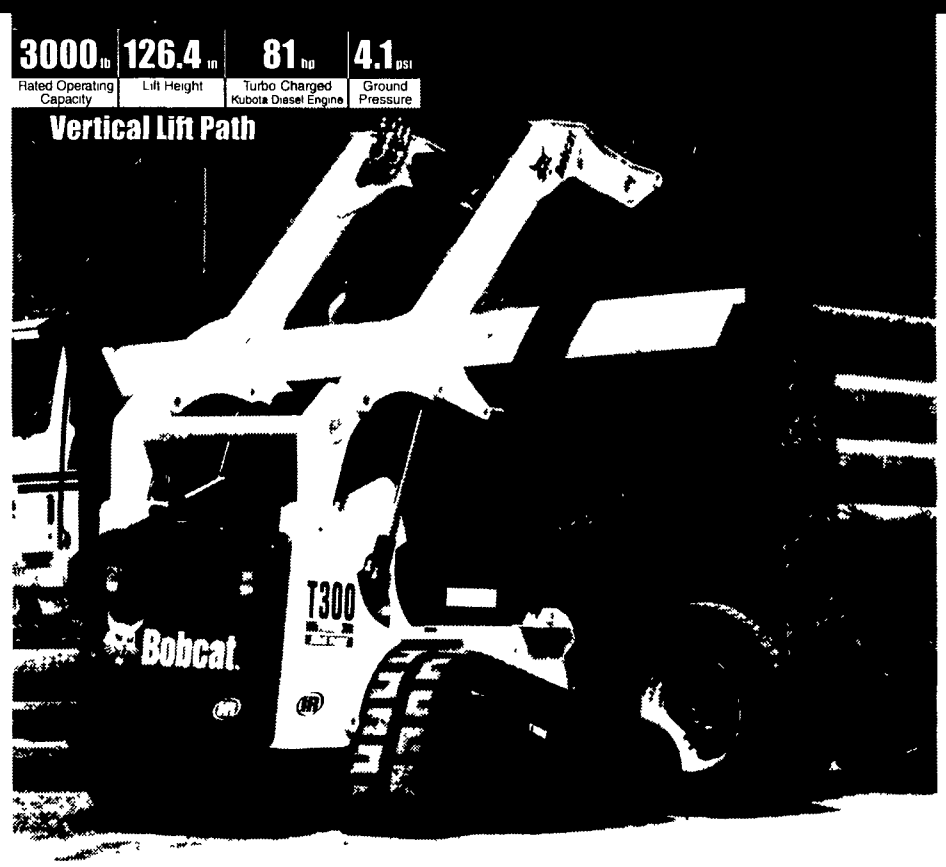
Tough Tracks for Tough Tasks

New Bobcat T300 Compact Track Loader delivers superior traction and loads of lift!



Get in earlier, finish faster
Extend your working season with the powerful, versatile T300 compact track loader! Keep crews working even when the weather won't cooperate!

Greater performance, comfort and value
Rugged rubber tracks give the T300 extra traction, greatly reduced ground pressure and low ground disturbance Superior flotation, too, for working on soft, wet, or muddy ground where other machines stop dead!

Power to spare
You get great pushing power, plus lots more for running attachments, including the Brushcat® rotary cutter, dozer blade, landscape rake, stump grinder, tiller and others

Vertical lift path
The T300's low-profile lift arms give the operator a great view to all four corners of the machine — and the vertical lift path delivers excellent reach and lift capacity for handling heavy loads!

See us for the full line of world-leading Bobcat equipment!

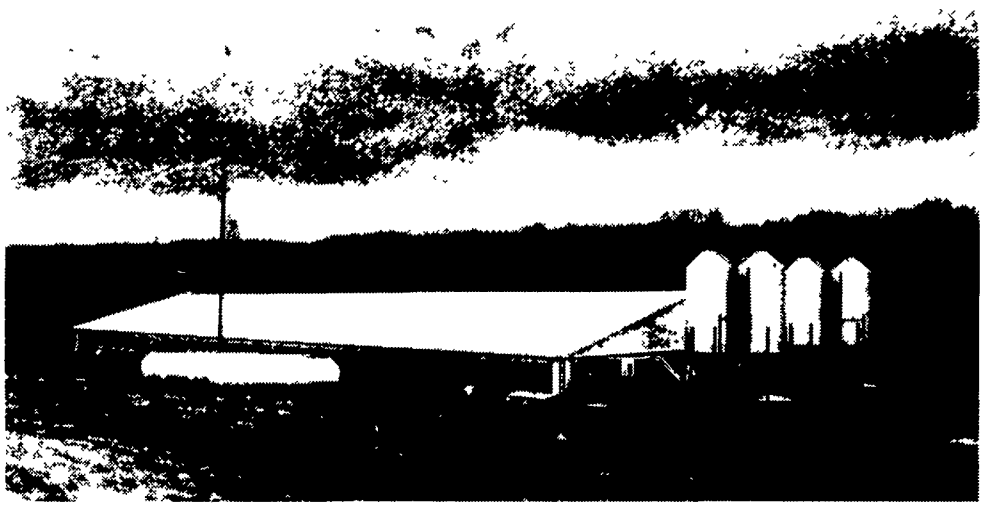
WEILER FARMS

OPEN HOUSE



Friday, March 28, 2003

10 AM to 2 PM

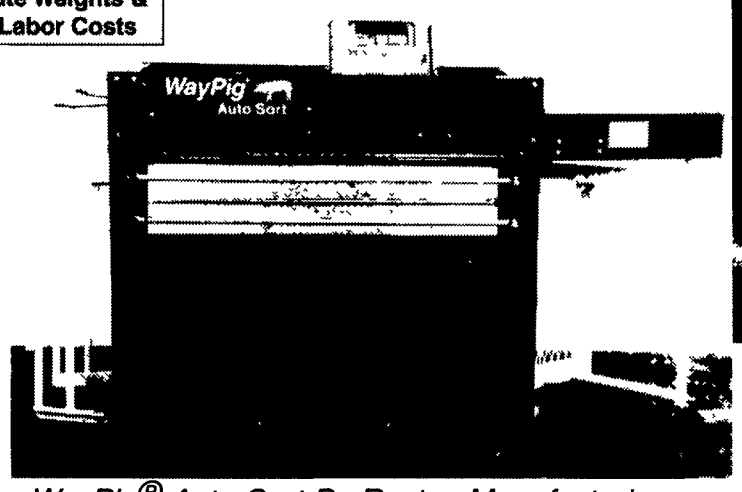
4418 Ridge Road, Jonestown,
Lebanon County, PA 17038

Weiler Farms' new, state-of-the-art "easy sort" 2,200-head swine finishing facilities feature Raytec Auto Sorting Scales and Airstream's New Computer-Compatible Climate Control Systems

WAYPIG® AUTO SORT SCALE WEIGHS, SORTS AND STAGES PIGS AUTOMATICALLY

- User-friendly digital indicator exclusively designed for WayPig® Auto Sort Scale
- Tracks total weight, number of pigs and average weight. Capability to track the number of pigs within a preselected weight range.
- Four-point weighing system is designed for accuracy and quiet operation.
- Heavy gauge steel is powder-coated for durability. Components that are typically subject to corrosion are stainless steel with this system.
- Plenty of clearance exists under the scale. Normal amount of debris will not distort weight.
- Electronic components are protected from pigs and the elements.
- Weighs one pig at a time.
- Easy cleaning.

Automatic Sorting, Accurate Weights & Less Labor Costs



WayPig® Auto Sort By Raytec Manufacturing

ELIMINATE SORT LOSS

- Pigs enter the scale and within seconds the accurate weight of even jittery pigs is displayed. WayPig® sorts and stages to your preset weight requirements.

CUT LABOR COSTS

- WayPig® Auto Sort Scale will perform the work of several employees. This scale offers large pen hog finishing operations relief from a labor-intensive, time-consuming job.

Lunch will be served from 10 AM to 2 PM

Directions to the Weiler Farms Open House (4418 Ridge Road, Jonestown, PA 17038):

Travel Rt. 81 to exit 85 (Indiantown Gap, Rt. 934). Go North on Rt. 934. Take the first road left (Asher Miner Road). At the first stop sign, continue straight onto Moon Shine Church Road (Rt. 443 East). Pass Moon Shine Church and travel approximately 1 mile to Ridge Road. Take a left onto Ridge Road. Weiler Farms is the first farm on the left.

Penn State Cooperative Extension Capitol Region Dairy Team

SPRAYER CALIBRATION
Del Voight
Capitol Region
Extension Agronomy
Agent, Lebanon

Being with cooperative extension for 10 years, I have had the pleasure of calibrating numerous sprayers. I have calibrated anything from mules pulling a sprayer to small backpack sprayers.

The most common problem I encountered with sprayers is improper nozzles, or nozzles not matching the sprayer. Some extension agents in Oregon found 86 percent of the sprayers calibrated by agents to be in need of adjustment, mostly because of failed spray nozzles. In many cases where pesticides fail, the sprayer is the main issue.

One farm had repeat failures of a product, and a simple boom height adjustment resulted in no more problems.

Here are some brief pointers in the proper calibration of sprayers. A fact sheet on "Calibration of Sprayers" is available at your local extension office. If you need specific assistance, do not hesitate to call me or a local agent or crop consultant for help.

Precalibration

1. Pesticides are dangerous. Wear rubber gloves and coveralls to complete this operation.
2. Take all nozzles and screen devices off sprayer (this includes the agitation nozzles inside the tank) and clean in soapy solution.
3. With nozzles off, run water through the whole system.
4. Check all parts for cracks. Pay attention to hoses and replace damaged hoses as needed.
5. Consider low drift nozzle replacement. Standard flats will lose 25 percent of spray to driftable fines while new air induction nozzles will lose only 1 percent to driftable fines.
6. Be sure that screens, washers, and tips are replaced in each of the nozzle bodies. A missed screen can result in a 25 percent overspray for that nozzle.

Calibration

(This is the simple form and is highly accurate):

1. Measure spacing of nozzles and refer to your chart for the course length.
2. Measure off the course length on a typical soil surface you plan to operate the sprayer. Use bright colored markers to mark the ends.
3. Fill the sprayer halfway with water and hook to the tractor or mules you plan to use to spray with.
4. Travel at a speed you are comfortable spraying at and operate the tractor and sprayer together without the pump running between the course flags.
5. Use a timepiece to determine how long it takes to run the course. Do this three times to gain an average speed in seconds.
6. With the sprayer on a level surface, turn pump on and begin spraying in place. Adjust pressure regulator to desired output. Start at 40 psi.
7. Collect with a device that reads ounces for the same time it took to run the course.
8. Ounces equals gallons per acre.

Monitoring

1. For new sprayers and at least once per year, all nozzles should be checked for even output. Either catch water for a set amount of time or use a flow meter to determine the output of each nozzle. On rate-controlled devices, this is the most crucial part of the calibration.
2. If a single nozzle is out of flow with the others by 10 percent, replace the nozzle. This can occur with brand-new nozzles, so it will need to be done whether old or new.
3. If error in rate is less than 10 percent, change pressure. If error in rate is greater than 10 percent but less than 25 percent, change ground speed. If error in rate is greater than 25 percent, change nozzle size.
4. Pressure must be increased 4 times to double sprayer output.
5. Twice the speed equals one-half the output.
6. If you plan to use other than water for a carrier, you will need to adjust the volume of water up to compensate for the differences in the density of the carrier. For instance, liquid nitrogen weighs 11 pounds versus water at 8 pounds so if the desired output is 20 gallons per acre of UAN then the calibration with water would be about 22 gallons of water. Spray rate controls will require you to enter the correct conversion factors which are contained in many sources of spray nozzles and user guides.

On a typical 100-acre farm, proper calibration can save $500 to $1,000 annually by preventing overapplication, which reduces the amount of pesticide in the environment and ensures proper application rates for efficient performance from a given product.

Pa. Ayrshire Breeders To Meet

BEDFORD (Bedford Co.) — The Pennsylvania Ayrshire Breeders Association's annual spring convention is set to take place at the Best Western in Bedford April 25 and 26.

The convention will include a banquet at 6 p.m. Friday evening, April 25. The meal will be preceded at 5:30 by introduction of the Pennsylvania Ayrshire Princess contestants. Activities following the banquet include crowning of the new princess, Hall of Fame award presentation, youth awards, and the Anything Goes Auction.

Saturday events include the spring meeting, from 9-11 a.m. and the Ayrshire calf and heifer sale at 1:30 p.m.

The sale committee is looking for quality calf and heifer consignments for the sale. Contact Shawn Hernley at (717) 865-6782 or Dale Maulfair at (717) 865-6439 if you have an animal you wish to consign.

Youth may enter the following contests:

- Ayrshire Princess Contest, ages 16-21;
- Ayrshire Maid, ages 8 to 15;
- Milk Production Awards, for Ayrshire cow who completed 305-day lactation in 2002;
- Scrapbook Contest, in four age categories; and
- Pennsylvania Outstanding Youth Award.

Youth may contact Barb Rader at (724) 789-7413 for details and forms.

Cost for the Friday evening banquet is $11 for ages 12 and above, $5.50 for ages 5-12, and $3 for children 4 and under.

Room reservations are due by March 28. Call the Best Western at (814) 623-9600 to reserve a room.

Banquet reservations are also due by March 28. Clip and send form to Amy Templin. Call her at (610) 323-9595 with questions.

Emmaus Farmers' Market Meeting Set

EMMAUS (Lehigh Co.) — The Friends of the Emmaus Farmers' Market (FEFM), a group of local residents and businesses, is hosting its first farmers' meeting to provide information and answer questions about the new downtown Emmaus Farmers' Market.

The FEFM is seeking a diverse mix of local farm products, from fresh peaches and heirloom vegetables to perennials, pastured poultry, pickled beets, baked goods, goat cheese, and honey.

All farmers and producers are welcome to attend this kick-off meeting on Monday, March 31 at 7 p.m. at the Emmaus Borough Hall, 28 S. 4th St., Emmaus.

The Emmaus Farmers' Market will be operating during the 2003 season as an open-air, producer-based market in the parking lot of Keystone Savings Bank, 235 Main Street, Emmaus.

This location is in the heart of an active residential and commercial shopping district with excellent frontage on a major roadway and adequate customer parking.

Representatives from the Friends of the Emmaus Farmers' Market, the Emmaus Main Street Program, the Borough of Emmaus, and the Lehigh County Cooperative Extension will address topics such as: season start and end dates, market day and time, promotions, and insurance.

Keith Hausman from the Coopersburg farmers' market and Brian Moyer from the Teleford farmers' market will be on hand to share their experiences.

To rsvp or for further information, please call (610) 965-6279 or (610) 391-9840.

Grange Opposes Pooling Proposal

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Pennsylvania State Grange presented testimony here this week before the House and Senate Agriculture Committees at a special hearing convened to hear both sides of a proposal by the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board to pool the over-order premiums paid to dairy farmers for fluid milk produced, processed, and sold in the state.

Brenda Shambaugh, Pennsylvania State Grange legislative director, opened testimony on behalf of the Grange. The Grange has always been opposed to premium pooling.

"We have had experts come to meet with our agriculture committee and dairy sub-committee several times since the pooling issue has surfaced," Shambaugh said. "Every time the issue is discussed, (Grange) policy is re-evaluated and has remained the same."

Shambaugh said that the Grange agriculture committee stated in their 2001 committee report, "The Grange reaffirms our policy in opposition of pooling the over-order premium.

"The Grange strongly believes that pooling will be detrimental to most dairy farmers across the state," Shambaugh said. She testified to two specific reasons for the Grange's opposition to pooling.

"Competition in milk markets can mean extra dollars in a dairy farmer's pocket," Shambaugh said. "Processors need to satisfy their producers to maintain their market, so they have to pay what the market will bear. Pooling means that everyone receives the same amount of the premium. In essence, that means competition is compromised."

Tied to competition, she said, is the fact that "pooling the over-order premium dilutes the premium to an almost insignificant amount. Farmers who currently receive a large portion of the premium will have their milk checks reduced substantially. But those dairy producers who will receive more of the premium than before pooling will not significantly increase their milk check. They will receive a small amount of the premium because it will be sent to all dairy producers. So those farmers will lose their competitive edge."

Charles E. Wismer Jr., a dairy farmer from Montgomery County and a past president of the Pennsylvania State Grange, testified that "more than half of the dairy producers across the state will lose money if 45 percent of the over-order premium is pooled."

Wismer also linked the over-order premium to competition.

"I am willing to take less directly from the over-order premium because I believe that I will lose more indirectly if the money is pooled. Competition is part of business. Pooling takes away competition"

Wismer testified that he has a concern for where the pooled money from the over-order premium would go. He said "The money will be sent to the co-op from the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board. There is no law or regulation mandating that the funds be passed on to the producer. The co-op could keep the pooled money and use it to build a new plant or send it to a farmer in another state."

Charlie Seidel, a Berks County dairy farmer also testified on behalf of the Grange against the proposed pooling regulations. He opened with the statement, "Pooling will have a significant negative impact on my dairy operation.

"Because my milk is produced, processed, and sold in Pennsylvania, I receive the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board over-order premium," Seidel said. "Last month I received slightly over 75 percent of the premium, or $1.13 per hundredweight. The premium amount of my milk check last month was approximately $900. If the proposed regulations were implemented, I would have received only 80 cents per hundredweight, which would have decreased my paycheck by over $250.

"The Pennsylvania State Grange and I strongly urge the House and Senate Agriculture Committees to request that the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board withdraw their proposed pooling regulations," Seidel said.

Weekly Dairy Market Outlook

proceeds from special exports with the Canadian domestic price to individual Canadian producers. This could provide an incentive to expand beyond the highly restrictive Canadian quota system for those producers. Second, U.S. dairy farmers would face lower prices here in the U.S. as imported raw milk from Canada displaces domestic milk.

The last speaker was Rick Phillips with Dairy Farmers of Canada. He did a good job presenting the Canadian perspective. He defended the Canadian system of rigid quotas and high internal domestic prices. Basically, Canadian farm prices are higher and more stable than those in the U.S. Canadian dairy farmers I spoke with said the price is high enough that they can afford to purchase and finance quota along with normal production expenses.

The best part of the program was speaking with the Canadian dairy farmers after the meeting. The dairy farmers in Alberta are very sharp and open to discussion of different ideas. While they respectively disagreed with the U.S. and New Zealand policy and some of the WTO proposals, they were open to different ideas.

It was clear from my perspective that Canada would not benefit from any of the proposals for trade reform that are being discussed at the WTO meetings. My assessment is that Canada will pursue a strategy of defending their quota system. They will likely try to reserve a special status during the WTO negotiations for those countries that manage a quota system. For example, they could agree to live within the confines of their restrictive quota policy and face limited increases in imports, but only if they agree to forgo export subsidies and access to global markets.

The May 17 issue of Lancaster Farming's Grower & Marketer section includes a focus on organic vegetable and fruit production. Also included will be Aqua Country, a component of the special section, with aquafarming features and other highlights.

Lancaster County Weekly Cattle

New Holland Pa.
Report Supplied By USDA
Friday March 20 2003

	CATTLE	CALVES
THIS WEEK	2640	1506
LAST WEEK	2784	1758
LAST YEAR	2800	1706

Compared to last week slaughter steers sold 50 1 00 higher to open the week with steers trading near steady at the end of the week The quality of the steer runs remain very mixed with only a small supply of quality stock on offer this week The Western direct trade moved some cattle on Thursday 1 00 2 00 higher The Texas yards were reporting sales of 78 00 with the Kansas and Nebraska yards receiving 78 00 78 50 with a few of the Western feed yards holding out until Friday to try and put a little more money on their close outs Holstein slaughter steers sold steady to 1 00 higher this week Slaughter heifers sold steady to firm with a very good run on Thursday allowing buyers some flexibility when filling loads Slaughter cows sold steady 3 00 lower with most of the decrease coming late in the week on the Lean cow supply The cutter cow carcass cutout value was sharply lower this week therefore buyers putting Lean cows on their trucks really had to pull in the reins Slaughter bulls sold weaker for the entire week This week s reported supply in Lancaster County included 31 percent steers (820 head) 8 percent heifers (206 head) 44 percent cows (1164 head) 6 percent bulls (143 head) with the balance of the three sales made up of 307 head of feeder cattle

Calf Summary Compared to last week slaughter calves sold fully steady Holstein bull calves suitable for special fed veal barns sold steady to 20 00 lower early in the week due to lightened demand with buyers putting a little money back on due to increased late week demand prices trended steady to 5 00 higher It is important to note that a 215 275 lb finished calf is only worth around 185 00 190 00 dressed therefore most buyers and producers are punching the calculator pretty hard trying to make 90 125 lbs costing 100 00 150 00 work The Holstein heifer supplies remain light with top heifers barely reaching 300 00 The PA Department of Ag graded 984 head of calves this week in Lancaster County for the two graded sales

A Complete Portfolio of Corn Protection

When considering how you'll protect your corn this year, consider a company with the industry's most complete portfolio When it comes to controlling grasses or broadleaf weeds in conventional or Roundup Ready® corn and protection from insects or keeping nitrogen stable, Dow AgroSciences has you covered

- Surpass®, TopNotch® Full Time® and new Keystone® and Keystone LA herbicides contain acetochlor the active ingredient rated by universities as the leader for soil-applied control of grasses and broadleaf weeds
- Hornet® WDG herbicide controls large seeded broadleaves like giant and common ragweed velvetleaf cocklebur and sunflower Used pre- or postemergence Hornet is the perfect partner with all grass herbicides for broad-spectrum one-pass weed control
- Glyphomax® Plus herbicide is our premier glyphosate offering and controls more than 100 grasses and broadleaf weeds
- Lorsban® 15G insecticide is the proven industry standard for control of corn rootworm cutworms and many secondary pests It returns the most profit according to Purdue University trials conducted since 1991
- N-Serve® nitrogen stabilizer something the competition doesn't have slows the conversion of fall- or spring-applied nitrogen to nitrate which can leach and pollute waterways
- Python® WDG gives soil-applied control of lambsquarters, pigweed and velvetleaf and controls triazine-resistant biotypes

perity that characterized much of the last decade for many Americans. In addition, as a result of poor commodity prices, reduced market competition and opportunity, and natural disasters, agricultural producers continue to be caught in an economic crisis. In response, Congress committed to address the long and continued economic hardship in rural America through the 2001 budget act and the farm bill enacted less than one year ago.

We believe the severe reductions in agricultural spending required by the House Budget Committee's proposal clearly suggest that some in Congress are willing to renege on that long-term commitment to agriculture.

In an attempt to achieve a balanced budget in the future while accommodating the majority of the President's new tax cut and economic growth initiative, the Committee resolution requires substantial reductions in both mandatory and discretionary spending that supports a wide range of federal agriculture programs.

The Budget Committee approach would require $19.17 billion in mandatory and discretionary program cuts. This represents in excess of a 25 percent reduction in the additional resources Congress provided to enhance the economic safety net, nutrition programs, resource conservation, and rural development. Compliance with the reconciliation instructions would require the House Agriculture Committee to reduce authorized Farm Bill spending by approximately 10 percent in the next 10 years.

We believe it is disingenuous to suggest that a balanced budget coupled with substantial tax reductions achieved at the expense of farmers, ranchers, and their communities represent our national priorities for economic growth.

We urge you to reject the Committee's fiscal year 2004 federal budget proposal and support fulfilling the commitments made by Congress to our nation's farmers and ranchers. Thanks for your consideration of these issues.

Field Day Topics

fungi reproduce readily in wheat planted no-till or with little cultivation.

Many wheat varieties show weak resistance to scab. The scab mold appears as a light, furry, almost powdery substance (like a scab on human skin) on the grain itself. On the wheat leaves, the scab, or fusarium, shows up as dark lesions.

The scab is of concern to grain elevators because of the toxins — called mycotoxins — that are produced. The wheat mids are rejected because of their ability to generate the mycotoxins, also called vomitoxins, which are dangerous to animals, according to DeWolf.

DeWolf noted the pathogens, already in the environment, show up on corn residue as tiny black grains, or fruiting bodies, that look like black pepper. The grains generate spores that travel throughout the wheat fields. Wheat fields that are in flowering stage are the most vulnerable to the spores. The fungus spreads into the central stem and into the grain.

For wheat growers, weather conditions at flowering can spell disaster if infected. If the temperature is 75 degrees or higher with high humidity and wet conditions, "it will favor scab development," DeWolf noted.

Winter wheat fields planted too early, in September in many cases, could readily become susceptible. The key is to get wheat planted in the fields later, when colder conditions in later October will prevent development of scab, but not too late that the plants won't be able to grow and thrive throughout the winter.

The scab fungus, according to DeWolf, survives in pasture grasses, ditches, fence rows — it's "a fusarium of the grasses," he said.

Scab management includes proper crop rotation (don't plant wheat after corn), destroying corn residue (clean cultivation may help), and staggering the variety types to provide an "escape window, and spread out your risk," said DeWolf.

As for spraying a fungicide on the wheat, later sprays are not useful because it is hard to hit a vertical head surface area, noted DeWolf. The last time to spray a fungicide would be at the five-leaf growth stage. There are also other timing concerns and growth stage label restrictions.

As for powdery mildew, varieties show good resistance. The fluffy white mycelia growth on the leaves are located on "broad, flat surfaces," so they are easy to see and control. The mycelia look like tiny icicles, and the spores are produced in chains, like a string of footballs. The spores break off the mycelia and spread out to other leaves and plants.

To find powdery mildew or scab, a simple hand lens is all that's needed. Look at the main tillers of the plant to get an idea about control. It's good to have a sharp pocketknife on hand to cut into the stem to determine stages for treatment.

Tours were also conducted at the field day.

Also at the meeting, Greg Roth, Penn State associate professor of agronomy, spoke about several programs ongoing in Pennsylvania and in Maryland for providing analyses of added values for grain crops.

Two programs stand out. One, in Kent County, Maryland, includes a $239,000 grant to study soybeans and wheat for export and local processing. Another, in Queen Anne's County, amounts to $500,000 for similar studies.

Pennsylvania is working on a hard wheat variety program to provide better protein content. Another program is looking to use barley to provide more starch and potential poultry feed. Both would require good disease tolerance.

Farmers Visit Washington

CAMP HILL (Cumberland Co.) — Pennsylvania's Congressional representatives were urged not to retreat from earlier commitments to agriculture when about 200 Pennsylvania Farm Bureau (PFB) members visited Washington March 19 - 20 for the farm organization's 2003 National Legislative Conference.

The meetings occurred as the U.S. House Budget Committee considered a cut of as much as $19.7 billion for agriculture to help balance the federal budget within seven years.

"Farmers have not participated in the economic growth and prosperity that many others enjoyed during the last decade. Poor commodity prices, reduced market opportunities, and natural disasters have further eroded the farm economy," said PFB President Guy F. Donaldson.

Energy and transportation issues were other focal points for the Congressional meetings. Farm Bureau members told lawmakers that agriculture depends on reliable and affordable sources of energy.

"As world events now remind us that our energy supply can be unstable, America needs to become more self-sufficient. Agriculture can be part of the solution through production for ethanol, bio-diesel, and methane," Donaldson noted. "Passage of a comprehensive energy bill should be a Congressional priority."

Heifers Wanted For PHA Sale

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Pennsylvania Holstein Association (PHA) invites all Holstein dairy producers and heifer growers to consign to the PHA ID Heifer Sale, Friday, April 25, at 11 a.m. sharp, Middletown, on the premises of the association's farm.

Pennsylvania Holstein Association and Stonehurst Farm, cooperative managers of this sale series, seeks high quality Holstein heifers bred less than 7 months down to 400 pounds at sale time. These heifers should be Registered or sire identified Holsteins.

Physical conformation and health are the keys. The association welcomes high quality groups and individuals from Pennsylvania and all surrounding states. The association plans to sell 400 head. The commission is only 7 percent. If you have extra heifers, then let the PHA ID Heifer Sale be the place to market them.

Contact the PHA or Stonehurst Farm at pha@vicon.net, djlentz@paholsteins.com, stonhurst@supernet.com, or by calling (814) 234-0364 and (717) 329-9202, or (717) 687-7475. Consignment deadline is April 15.

Land O'Lakes Testifies In Favor Of Pooling Premium

CARLISLE (Cumberland Co.) — Pooling is the only fair way to make sure that the premium dollars collected by the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board will benefit all producers in the state, Land O'Lakes Dairy Committee Chairman Gordon Hoover told members of the Senate and House Agricultural and Rural Affairs Committees Wednesday.

Hoover, a dairy producer from Gap, joined Dennis Schad, Land O'Lakes director of Mid-Atlantic marketing and regulatory affairs, to testify on behalf of Land O'Lakes at a hearing before the combined ag committees, conducted in State College.

During the hearing, Land O'Lakes testified in support of the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board's (PMMB) regulation to pool 45 percent of the Pennsylvania over-order premium among all producers in Pennsylvania. The hearing was part of the regulatory review process for the regulation, released by the PMMB in February.

"The reason Land O'Lakes has spent the last five years urging the PMMB to pool the Pennsylvania over-order premium is simply because the program was created to help all Pennsylvania dairy producers," Hoover said, adding that Land O'Lakes members face the same economic challenges and produce the same quality milk as producers who ship to processors with higher Class I utilization.

"There is no just reason why Land O'Lakes producers in Pennsylvania should not share equally in the benefits of the over-order premium."

According to Schad, the PMMB put years of deliberate thought and study into how the Pennsylvania over-order premium could be distributed most appropriately to benefit all Pennsylvania producers.

"The PMMB, an agency which the General Assembly has charged to be expert in matters of the dairy industry, has sent you a reasoned regulation which considers the interests of all of the state's dairy farmers," he said. "The board drafted this regulation because they determined that the level of the over-order premium was based on conditions faced by all Pennsylvania dairy farmers and that fairness dictated that the premium be more equitably pooled."

Pooling has been in practice for more than 65 years, with about 85 percent of the nation's milk supply priced and pooled through the Federal Order milk marketing system.

"The PMMB already allows individual processors to pool premiums among their members, and all dealers in Pennsylvania use this payment-pooling methodology," Schad said.

Both Hoover and Schad reaffirmed Land O'Lakes commitment to keep any proceeds from the Pennsylvania over-order premium within the state and pay its members those returns. "Pooling is not about Land O'Lakes or who it represents any more than is about any other dairy industry organization supporting or opposing the regulation," Hoover said. "It's about the dairy producers who will be affected by it.

"More producers in Pennsylvania will benefit from pooling than those who won't," he explained, adding that one-third of the state's dairy producers currently receive 84 percent of the premium proceeds. "Those producers who will benefit from pooling work just as hard, are just as valuable members of the community, and deserve those premium dollars just as much as any other producer in the state. That's why we urge the passage of this pooling regulation."

NASS Agriculture Counts

By Marc Tosiano
Pa. State Statistician

Editor's note: This is a monthly column from the Pennsylvania Ag Statistics Service (PASS), a field office of USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture (PDA). The Website is www.usda.gov/nass/.

DON'T LET PA. GET SHORTCHANGED

Don't let Pennsylvania be undercounted in the Ag Census! It could have an impact on the future funding of the ag services or programs that you use right here in Pennsylvania.

Here is a partial list of items that are affected by counts from the Census of Agriculture: Extension funding and staffing, ag research grants, farm bill programs, crop insurance, farm loans by private lenders, small farm programs, Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education program, programs run by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, and much more.

I wish to thank the thousands of people in Pennsylvania who have already sent in their completed Ag Census form.

However, growers in about 15-20 other states are doing better at returning their Ag Census forms. We want to be fairly represented compared to other states because an undercount will shortchange Pennsylvania agriculture for the next five years.

That's why, in the next week or two, we are mailing a third form to those who have not yet responded. Although we don't want to bother you at home, after that, we will have to make phone calls or farm visits to ask for your help.

Within our borders, county statistics from the Ag Census will often be the only information about your county until the next Ag Census, which is five years away. A complete count is needed for every county so that your county is properly represented compared to the rest.

So far, Centre, Elk, and Franklin counties are leading the Pennsylvania responses, but many counties are way behind these leaders. Any county that comes up short in the final tally may not get fair consideration for extension services or other decisions that affect Pennsylvania growers.

Remember small, part-time, and hobby farms must be counted, too. Call toll-free (888) 4AG-STAT or (888) 424-7828 if you did not receive a census form or if you need any help completing the form.

Pa. Custom Rates Published

This annual report shows the state average rates for more than 80 contracted services, including plowing and cultivating, planting and drilling, spraying, harvesting, and more. Averages are also published for mountain and valley regions of the state.

New features in this report include 13 new items added for 2003. We are also publishing the range of reported charges after removing the highest 10 percent and lowest 10 percent across the state.

This popular report was funded by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture but it is only possible thanks to voluntary reports by custom operators and Pennsylvania farmers. Thank you!

The results of the Custom Rates survey can be found here in this issue of Lancaster Farming or at www.nass.usda.gov/pa/ by clicking on "Publications and Releases."

2002 Trout Summary Published Feb. 28

Pennsylvania 2002 trout production ranks fifth in the nation based on the value of trout sold. Pennsylvania sales account for 7 percent of national trout sales. Only Idaho, North Carolina, Washington, and California had more trout sales.

Thank you to all the producers who helped us with your response to the annual trout survey conducted every January. The survey contacted all known producers and hatcheries.

Pennsylvania's 61 commercial trout growers sold 1.64 million pounds of trout valued at $4.56 million during 2002. This was down from the 1.88 million pounds valued at $4.89 million sold in 2000. Only Wisconsin has more trout growers than Pennsylvania, with 65 operations.

Pennsylvania ranks first in the nation for the value of trout distributed for conservation and recreational purposes. With a value of $10.8 million, Pennsylvania accounts for 16.6 percent of the nation's distributed trout. This includes trout released by state hatcheries, cooperative nurseries, and private fishing clubs.

The complete report includes statistics for the 20 major trout-producing states. The tables include trout sales by size of fish, first point of sale by size of fish, trout losses by reason for loss, distributed trout by size of fish, and trout eggs both sold and distributed.

For the complete Trout report, search for "Trout" in the commodity list at www.usda.gov/nass/search.htm.

2002 Honey Summary Published Feb. 28

Honey statistics are compiled for producers with five or more colonies. Thank you to all the producers who helped us with your response to the annual honey survey conducted every December. The survey contacted all large producers and a sample of smaller honey operations.

Pennsylvania honey production in 2002 totaled 1.026 million pounds, up 6 percent from the 969,000 pounds in 2001. This honey was pulled from 18,000 colonies statewide, up 1,000 from last year. The average yield was 57 pounds per colony, same as 2001.

Total Pennsylvania stocks of honey, as of Dec. 15, 2002, were 513,000 pounds, about the same as the previous year.

Pennsylvania honey producers received an average price of $1.30 per pound, compared to 92 cents last year.

Nationwide, there were 2.524 million colonies producing honey in 2002. National honey production totaled 171 million pounds, down 8 percent from previous year. Yield per colony averaged 67.8 pounds, compared to 74.0 pounds in 2001.

National producer honey stocks were 39.05 million pounds on Dec. 15, 2002, down 40 percent from a year earlier.

Prices for the 2001 U.S. honey crop averaged $1.29 per pound, compared to 70.4 cents last year.

For the complete Honey report, search for "Honey" in the commodity list at www.usda.gov/nass/search.htm.

Pennsylvania Machinery Custom Rates 2003

By Scott W Shimmin
Agricultural Statistician

The custom rates shown are averages from voluntary reports by custom operators and farmers throughout Pennsylvania Most of the rates are stated per acre cwt ton, bale or bushel rather than per hour to reduce the variation due to machinery size Individual rates vary due to differences in working conditions services performed or even the operator s eagerness to do custom work Therefore the average rates shown should not be considered absolute indications of fair charges

Acreage rates are shown separately for two regions of the state labeled "Mountain" and Valley" The differences in rates between regions reflect differences in terrain soils and alternative opportunities for the labor and equipment used Figures labeled "State represent the straight average of all reports used regardless of geographic location

Of the 63 rates reported with year to year comparisons 41 increased, 16 decreased, and 6 are the same as last year Thirteen new items were added to the survey this year Because of the potential variation in size and overall productivity of equipment, a range of reported rates for each job has been added The range represents the middle 80 percent of all reported rates for each job thus the lowest 10 percent and the highest 10 percent of all reported values were excluded tips about clipping and fitting, she said.

In addition, "I like the people that I see there at the show," said Eliza. "And I get to catch up on what everyone is doing, because I only get to see them a couple of times a year."

Besides working for other exhibitors, "I want to participate in the Skillathon and maybe the Quiz Bowl," she said.

"I just help them on show day or help them with their cattle when they're washing and blowing," said Eliza. "I have shown before for other people in the past, but this would be more behind the scenes, because this is more of a youth show, so they (the exhibitors) will be showing their own animals."

Leah's weekend plans include "going up on Friday for the Skillathon, handing out ribbons, and maybe the Quiz Bowl if I get a team together," she said.

This year Leah is practicing for Quiz Bowl as a 4-H group.

Last year she tested her beef knowledge at the Skillathon and won her age group.

The Skillathon includes a variety of stations that challenge participants to identify beef breeds, retail cuts, feed ingredients, and feed safety, besides general knowledge and management questions.

The Quiz Bowl covers topics that include nutrition, genetics, reproduction, animal health, marketing and promotion, and cattle breeds.

To prepare for the competition, "I'm going to try to look up some of them, and the types of grain, too," said Leah.

"I like going to the shows — it's a great opportunity to learn more about fitting. Watching the people you can learn more about judging cattle — and it's just fun," said Leah.

The Waltons exhibit cattle at 4-H Roundup, the Pennsylvania Angus Breeders Show, Atlantic National, and local shows.

In addition, Eliza has also shown at KILE and Farm Show.

For Eliza, exhibiting cattle actually had its beginnings in the dairy ring, as she has also exhibited dairy cattle.

She began exhibiting dairy cattle because her grandparents had a dairy farm, however her uncle (who used to show Angus), introduced her to the beef cattle ring.

Eliza has been showing cattle since 1995, and Leah, who has three cattle in her own show string, has exhibited cattle for four years.

For Leah, other 4-H participation includes sewing club in the past. However she is considering joining the equine activities this year in 4-H.

In spite of the fact that their cattle are staying home, 4-H'ers Leah, left, and Eliza Walton are planning to go to the Beef Expo to participate in the Skillathon and Quiz Bowl, among other cattle-related activities.

Gates® Not Just Another Belt!

SUPER HC® AND SUPER HC® MOLDED NOTCH BELTS are designed for use where conventional V-Belt drives are impractical, where space, weight or sheave limitations are present and where increased horsepower capacity and higher speeds are required.

FEATURES:

- Gates "Curves" Concave sides, Radius Relief and Arched Top combine to minimize wear and assure proper support and strength.
- Full Oil &Heat Resistance Special material used throughout the belt provides resistance and also helps resist ozone, sunlight, weather and aging
- Tough Tensile Members for Extra Strength Superior resistance to fatigue and shock loads Special bonding material surrounding tensile members provides long service without separation
- Molded Notches Reduce Bending Stress Notches are precision engineered for uniform distribution of stresses Also dissipate the heat of rapid flexing
- Bandless, Precision Machined Edge for Even Wedging Action Precisely machined to exact dimensions for uniform fit and reduction of belt slippage

Farm Show Posts Limousin Winners

MICHELLE KUNJAPPU
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — David and Linda Miller had a stellar day at the Farm Show's Limousin show, taking home both grand champion bull and premier exhibitor honors.

The Millers are from Clay Acres Limousin Farm, Bedford. The operation consists of a 100-head cow-calf herd and two farms equaling 140 acres.

It has been a family operation since the 1970s. The Millers brought eight head of cattle to the Farm Show, where they have been exhibiting for 20 years.

The Mosher family took home the premier breeder honor.

The grand champion Limousin female was owned by Annette and Jim Delaplaine, Gettysburg, who are joined by children Kelsey, 11, and Kyle, 8, on their operation. Kelsey and Kyle also exhibited cattle in the junior shows of this year's Farm Show competition. This year's competition, in fact, was Kyle's first time in the ring by himself.

The family farm, HeartSelt Farms, includes two farms totaling 250 acres and more than 300 head of cow-calf and feedlot cattle.

They have been exhibiting three years at the Farm Show, where they exhibited Shorthorn and Limousin cattle.

The Delaplaine family — Kelsey, Kyle, Annette, and Jim — exhibited the grand champion Limousin female. At halter is Eric Fleming.

PJCA members to exhibit their animals in a weekend of fun and education.

Special educational demonstrations and exhibits will be given on Friday and Saturday, March 28 and 29.

Since its creation in 1988, the Pennsylvania Beef Expo has expanded to include activities targeted at both junior and senior cattlemen. This year's Expo begins with the PCA Awards Banquet and Annual Meeting, scheduled for Thursday, March 27 at Celebrations Hall, near the Nittany Mall, in State College. Festivities will begin with a reception at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m.

The association will recognize cattle producers with several awards including the Industry Service Award, Commercial Cattleman, Seedstock Breeder and Cattle Feeder of the Year.

One farm will be recognized with the Stewardship Award for dedication to preserving agriculture and the environment for future generations.

Other banquet highlights include announcement of the Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Beef Ambassadors. Banquet reservations can be made by calling or faxing the PCA office at (814) 238-5888 or by e-mail at llw@psu.edu.

TRADESHOW

The Beef Expo Trade Show will be available on Friday and Saturday, March 28 and 29. The trade show is an excellent opportunity to visit and ask questions of equipment, genetics and pharmaceutical companies, as well as show supply, feed, and specialty exhibitors. Once again the trade show will also feature various displays of different beef breeds.

SKILLATHON, QUIZ BOWL

This year's Pennsylvania Beef Expo will again provide juniors with an opportunity to test their knowledge at the annual Pennsylvania Beef Expo Skillathon and Pennsylvania Beef Expo Quiz Bowl.

This year's Beef Skillathon will be conducted Saturday, March 29 from 8 to 10 a.m. The Skillathon allows young beef enthusiasts to test their beef industry knowledge. By incorporating project skills and industry basics in a series of mini-learning stations participants compete in areas such as identification of beef breeds, retail cuts, feed ingredients and feed safety. Divisions for the Skillathon include senior (16-21), intermediate (12-15), and junior (8-11).

The Beef Expo Quiz Bowl will also take place on Friday, March 28, beginning with preliminaries at 4 p.m. Any teams of four PJCA, 4-H or FFA members are invited to compete. The competition will be divided into two divisions: 14 to 21 year olds (seniors) and 8 to 13 year olds (juniors). Quiz Bowl topics will include nutrition, genetics, reproduction, animal health, marketing and promotion, and cattle breeds.

The Beef Skillathon and Quiz Bowl competitions are open to all PJCA, 4-H, and FFA members. Individuals can join the PJCA for a $5 annual membership fee at the contest site. Four-member PJCA county, club or school teams in any division also are invited to participate. For more information contact Elizabeth Ackerman at (717) 484-0888.

JUNIOR SHOWS

This year's Pennsylvania Beef Expo Heifer Show will be conducted Saturday, March 29 and will include more than seven different beef cattle breeds. All heifers born between September 2001 and October 2002 are eligible for the show. The Junior Steer Show is scheduled for Sunday, March 30. Light, middle, and heavyweight division champions will compete for grand champion laurels.

The final showmanship competition will also be on Sunday. More information is available from Elizabeth Ackerman at (717) 484-0888, the PCA office at (814) 238-5888 phone/fax, e-mail llw@psu.edu or on the PCA Website at www.pacattle.org.

PCA To Award Scholarship

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association (PCA) has announced that a $1,000 scholarship will be awarded to a young person planning a career related to the cattle industry . The scholarship will be awarded at the PCA banquet, March 27.

Funding for this scholarship is provided through PCA' s previous participation in the IVOMEC: GENERATIONS OF EXCELLENCE TM program.

"Nothing is more important than providing a sound education for tomorrow's producers," according to Terry L. Shearer, President of PCA.

"Those planning to work in the changing cattle industry into the next century will need to be proficient in animal and crop sciences, business economics, and communications. That's why PCA is providing a $1,000 IVOMEC Scholarship to help a deserving young cattleman or cattlewoman prepare for the future."

BEEF TIPS

The American Simmental Association (ASA), located in Bozeman, Montana, is universally respected as a beef industry leader ASA 1) was the first beef breed to develop and publish a sire summary, 2) was on the leading edge in the development of Estimated Breeding Values, 3) developed multi-breed EPDs, and, 4) brought performance to the show ring

Bull Performance Test, Sale Offers 63 Bulls

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Department of Agriculture will offer 63 Bulls at its 30th Annual Performance Test Bull Sale at the Penn State Ag Arena, Centre County on March 28.

The sale starts at 11:00 and is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

"Pennsylvania believes in its beef industry," said Secretary Wolff. "We at the Department of Agriculture assist our breeders in their quest for genetic progress in their herds through our Livestock Evaluation Center. For 30 years, the Bull Performance Test and Sale has provided the opportunity for breeders looking for proven genetics to make genetic progress in their herds."

Of the 63 lots, 29 are Black Angus, 5 Red Angus, 4 Charolais, 18 Simmental, 5 Herefords, 1 Limousin, and 1 Shorthorn.

Bulls were placed on test on Oct. 29 at the PDA Livestock Evaluation Center and over the course of 112 days, were evaluated for average weight gain, feed efficiency, and other traits that identify genetic potential.

Based on the performance of the bulls, the Livestock Evaluation Center can objectively determine their hereditary potential. The resulting offspring are more efficient and have more genetic potential for the producer.

This year's test results identified two bulls with an average daily weight gain of five pounds a day; the average for the test was four pounds a day. Ultra-sounding was used to evaluate the muscle and fat gain of each bull.

All bulls in this year's bull Performance Test and Sale are from guaranteed breeders.

At the conclusion of the test, only the highest-ranking bulls are offered for sale.

For more information on the Livestock Evaluation Center, the Bull Performance Test, or Pennsylvania's beef industry, contact the Department of Agriculture at (717) 787-4737 or Glenn Eberly at the Department's Livestock Evaluation Center (814) 238-2527.

Code of Show Ring Ethics

The Pennsylvania Beef Expo Committee has adopted a Code of Show Ring Ethics based on those developed by Pennsylvania Farm Products Show Commission, to prevent unethical, deceptive and fraudulent show ring practices

Junior Exhibitors of animals at the Pennsylvania Beef Expo shall at all times deport themselves with honesty and good sportsmanship Their conduct in this competitive environment shall always reflect the highest standards of honor and diligence to promote the advancement of agricultural education

1 Exhibitors must present upon request of show officials proof of ownership length of ownership and age of all animals entered (e g registration papers) Misrepresentation of ownership or any fact relating thereto is prohibited

2 Exhibitors shall provide animal health certificates from a licensed veterinarian upon request by show officials

3 Exhibitors are expected to care for and groom their own animals while at the show

4 The act of entering an animal in the Expo Junior show is the giving of consent by the Exhibitor (absolutely responsible person) for the show management to obtain any specimens of urine saliva blood or other substances from the animal to be used in testing Animals entered in an event shall not be administered drugs (other than in accordance with applicable federal and state statutes regulations and rules) affecting the animal s performance or appearance at the event If the laboratory report on the chemical analysis of samples taken from livestock indicates the presence of forbidden drugs or medication, this shall be prima facie evidence that such substance had been administered to the animal either internally or externally It is presumed that the sample substance tested by the laboratory to which it is sent is the one taken from the animal in question its integrity is preserved and in all procedures of said collection and preservation transfer to the laboratory, and analysis of the sample correctly reflects the condition of the animal at the time the sample was taken, with the burden on the absolutely responsible person to prove otherwise at any hearing in regard to the matter conducted by the Expo At any time after an animal arrives on the Pennsylvania Beef Expo premises all treatments involving the use of drugs and/or medications shall be administered by a licensed veterinarian

5 Any non traditional surgical procedure or injection of any foreign substance or drug or the external application of any substance (irritant counterirritant or similar substance) which could affect the animal s performance or later its natural contour conformation, or appearance except for surgical procedures performed by a duly licensed veterinarian for the sole purpose of protecting the health of the animal is prohibited

6 The use of showing and/or handling practices or devices such as striking animals to cause swelling using electrical contrivance or other similar practices are not acceptable and are prohibited

7 Direct interference with the judge show management other exhibitors breed representatives or show officials before during or after a competitive event is prohibited In the furtherance of their official duty all judges show management or other show officials shall be treated with courtesy cooperating and respect and no person shall direct abusive or threatening conduct toward them

8 No Exhibitor shall conspire with another person or persons to intentionally violate this Code of Ethics or knowing contribute or cooperate with another person or persons either by affirmative action or inaction to violate this Code of Ethics

9 The application of this Code of Ethics provides for absolute responsibility for an animal s condition by the Exhibitor whether or not he or she was actually instrumental in or had knowledge of the treatment of the animal in contravention of this Code of Ethics

10 The act of entering an animal in this show is the giving or consent by the Exhibitor to have any disciplinary action taken by the show against such individuals published in any publication of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions including appropriate industry publications and any special notices to members

11 The act of entering an animal in the show is the giving of verification by the Exhibitor that he or she has read the Code of Show Ring Ethics and understands that consequences of and penalties provided for actions prohibited by the Code It is further a consent that any action which contravenes these rules is also in violation of federal and state statures regulations or rules and may be released to appropriate law enforcement authorities with jurisdiction over such infractions

MARCH 27 TO MARCH 30 AT THE PENN STATE AG ARENA

PENNSYLVANIA CATTLEMEN'S ASSOCIATION PCA

Livestock Evaluation Center Announces Bull Test Results

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's Livestock Evaluation Center has announced the final results for Pennsylvania's Bull Testing Program.

The group of bulls that have completed the testing program consist of 39 Angus (5 of which are Red), 24 Simmentals, 6 Herefords, 4 Charolais, 1 Limousin and 1 Shorthorn.

Through 112 days the 39 Angus bulls have maintained an average daily gain of 4.01 pounds per day with a lifetime weight per day of age of 3.37 per day.

The top-gaining bull is an Angus bull, an Ankonian Elixir 100 son consigned by Joe and Bobbi McMullen, which gained 5.30 pounds per day and has maintained a lifetime weight per day of age of 3.88 pounds per day.

The second fastest-gaining bull of the Angus breed is the WVFHB Atlantic National Merit son consigned by Weaverland Valley Farms, which gained 5.01 pounds per day on test.

The 24 Simmentals have a breed average daily gain of 3.71 pounds per day on test, and a lifetime wt. per day of age of 3.46 pounds per day.

The top-gaining Simmental bull, a son of STF Added Dimensions consigned by Jack Herr has gained 4.74 pounds per day, with the second fastest gaining Simmental bull from James Cowell Jr., with an average daily gain of 4.60 pounds per day.

This year, there are six Herefords on test which have gained, on average, 3.44 pounds per day. The top-gaining Hereford is consigned by Eugene Sapp.

The top Charolais bull, consigned by Ray Bratton, has gained 4.35 pounds per day on test and has maintained a lifetime weight per day of age of 3.81 pounds per day.

The Limousin bull is consigned by David and Lynda Miller, and the Shorthorn bull on test is consigned by Rinkhoff Agr. Entp. LLC.

The bulls were weighed off test February 18, and have had their final average daily gains and lifetime weight per day of ages calculated. The bulls have also been scanned ultrasonically to obtain fat thickness and loin-eye areas.

Adjusted yearling weights and final index ratios were derived from gained data. All bulls have undergone a comprehensive breeding soundness exam, including a semen evaluation.

After all of the evaluations, the sale committee selected 63 of the bulls to offer in Pennsylvania's 30th Performance tested bull sale, March 28 at 11 a.m.

The bull sale on March 28 will be followed by the annual Pennsylvania Simmental Female Sale. For more information, please contact Glenn Eberly, director, Livestock Evaluation Center, 651 Fox Hollow Road, State College, PA 16803, phone (814) 238-2527 or (814) 865-5857 message and/or fax. Beef Council Makes Contribution To Harrisburg Culinary Program

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — On Feb. 17, Pennsylvania Beef Council executive director, Paul Slayton, presented a $1000 check to the Benjamin Olewine III Center for the Study of Culinary Arts at Harrisburg Area Community College on behalf of the Pennsylvania Beef Council board of directors, Pennsylvania Veal Producers Association, and McCormick and Company.

The culinary school partnered with the Beef Council, McCormick and Company, Karns Foods, Hormel, RMH Foods, Bubba Burgers, Catelli Brothers Veal and the Pennsylvania Veal Producers Association to prepare more than 35,000 beef and veal samples during the eight-day 2003 Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Farm show visitors sampled McCormick beef stew and veal chili, veal picatta, veal stew, veal meatballs, Hormel fully cooked beef pot roast, RMH Quick-N-Easy fully cooked meat loaf and pot roast and Bubba Burgers.

"We are grateful to the culinary students for their assistance at the 2003 Farm Show; we are pleased to make this contribution to their program and look forward to partnering with them again next year," said Slayton at the check presentation ceremony. Tim Harris, Culinary Instructor, noted that the financial contribution will fund the students' trip to a national culinary meeting in Philadelphia later this spring.

Ruth Karns Rudderow, Karns Foods; Maida Connor, Harrisburg Area Community College Foundation executive director; Paul Slayton, Pennsylvania Beef Council executive director; Dr. Edna Baehre, Harrisburg Area Community College president; and chef instructor Tim Harris.

American Veal Association Wins Agri-Marketing Award

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Sacunas and Saline Inc., central Pennsylvania's largest integrated communications agency, and Harrisburg-based American Veal Association (AVA), on behalf of the Cattlemen's Beef Board, received first place in the Region VI competition of the National Agri-Marketing Association (NAMA) 2003 Best of NAMA/ Golden ARC (Agricultural Relations Council) Awards program.

The honor was given for an educational guide designed to promote veal on the retail level while serving as an industry resource for food retailers.

Titled "How to Respond to Consumer Questions About Veal," the publication placed first in the public affairs/issue management category and qualified to advance to the national competition where it will compete against three entries in its respective category.

The guide contains information to respond to consumer questions about veal, including nutritional value, appropriate cooking methods, frequently asked questions and quality assurance of veal production.

The guide also provides retailers with a list of expert spokespeople who can answer questions regarding communications and retail marketing. To date, 1,300 retail guides have been distributed.

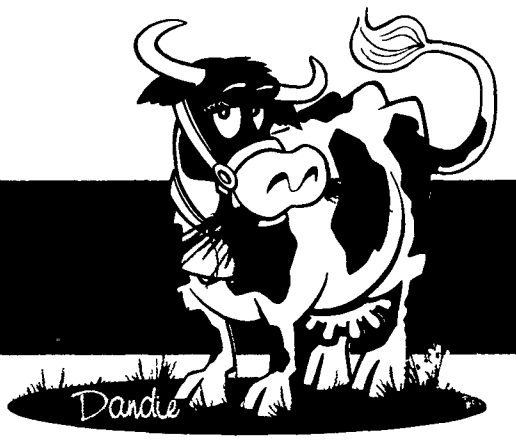
Dandie says... "LOOKING FOR A LATE LEAFY TIMOTHY?"

Barliza Timothy



Can be Cut or Grazed Prior to Heading!

Excellent Palatability
BARLIZA TIMOTHY

- Late Heading
- Very Leafy
- Flexible Harvest Mngmt.

BARENBRUG

Barliza is our latest heading Timothy. It's about 10 days later than Climax. Unlike most varieties, it can be cut or grazed prior to heading, adding flexibility to Timothy management. "Barliza's palatability is second to none" according to Dave Leach, one of our dealers who has been growing Barliza since 1998. Dave's farm is on heavy red clay soil and he routinely grazes and/or makes hay/balage off his fields prior to heading and still maintains stand persistence. You can't do that with most varieties. Barliza was bred in Europe for flexible management and a high leaf-to-stem ratio.

Two Excellent Alfalfas at Good Prices

BARALFA 54
Highest yielding alfalfa in Penn State's Landisville research farm trial with a 3-year average of 8.14 tons from 1996-1998 Fall Dormancy 5, Winterhardiness 4 Great for southern Pennsylvania and Maryland.

BARALFA 32 IQ
A fine stem large leaf variety with very good yields The IQ stands for Increased Quality, and according to one Lancaster County dairyman, "Baralfa 32 IQ had the highest feed value of any first cutting hay that my feed man tested RFV of 175. protein was 25%."

Water gardens, small and large, demonstrated a myriad of possibilities for turning mundane backyards into nature's paradise.

Pennsylvania In Full Bloom

LOU ANN GOOD
Food And Family

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Pennsylvania was in full bloom last week at the first-ever Pennsylvania Garden Expo.

The colorful event covered 175,000 square feet at the Pennsylvania Farm Show Exhibition Hall March 21-23. More importantly the expo bloomed with practical information and ideas for home gardeners.

Landscaping, water gardens, and patio displays demonstrated what home gardeners can accomplish. Ideas and supplies for fencing, playground equipment, fish, masonry, birdhouses, storage sheds, roofing, and garden decor were available from many merchants.

Qualified landscapers and installers were on hand to answer questions for do-it-yourselfers and for those who desired to schedule their services.

Indoor ponds do not require professional installation according to spokespersons at Gilbert's Garden Center. They said the average homeowners can install their own water gardens by following printed instructions and adding a bit of muscle power.

Visitors could stroll through many of the gardens. One was a labyrinth designed by Jane Johnson of Plantscape and Design. She said the inspiration for the labyrinth came from Waldo Emerson's words regarding entering the labyrinth: "It is by yourself without an ambassador that God speaks to you. You are one who has a private door that leads to the King's chamber."

The Alliance for the Chesapeake Bay conducted a press conference to introduce a new Integrated Pest Management Project, which forms partnerships with garden centers and hardware stores to promote the use of less toxic methods of pest control.

Frank Ellis of EPA said that the program is a spinoff from a study of the Chesapeake Bay runoff. The source of pesticide runoff is from lawn pesticides rather than agriculture fields, he said.

The expo was ideal for finding out about methods to control pests while minimizing environmental impacts. Penn State Extension, Pennsylvania Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission, and Pennsylvania Game Commission were some of the agencies that provided information on backyard wildlife and natural landscaping.

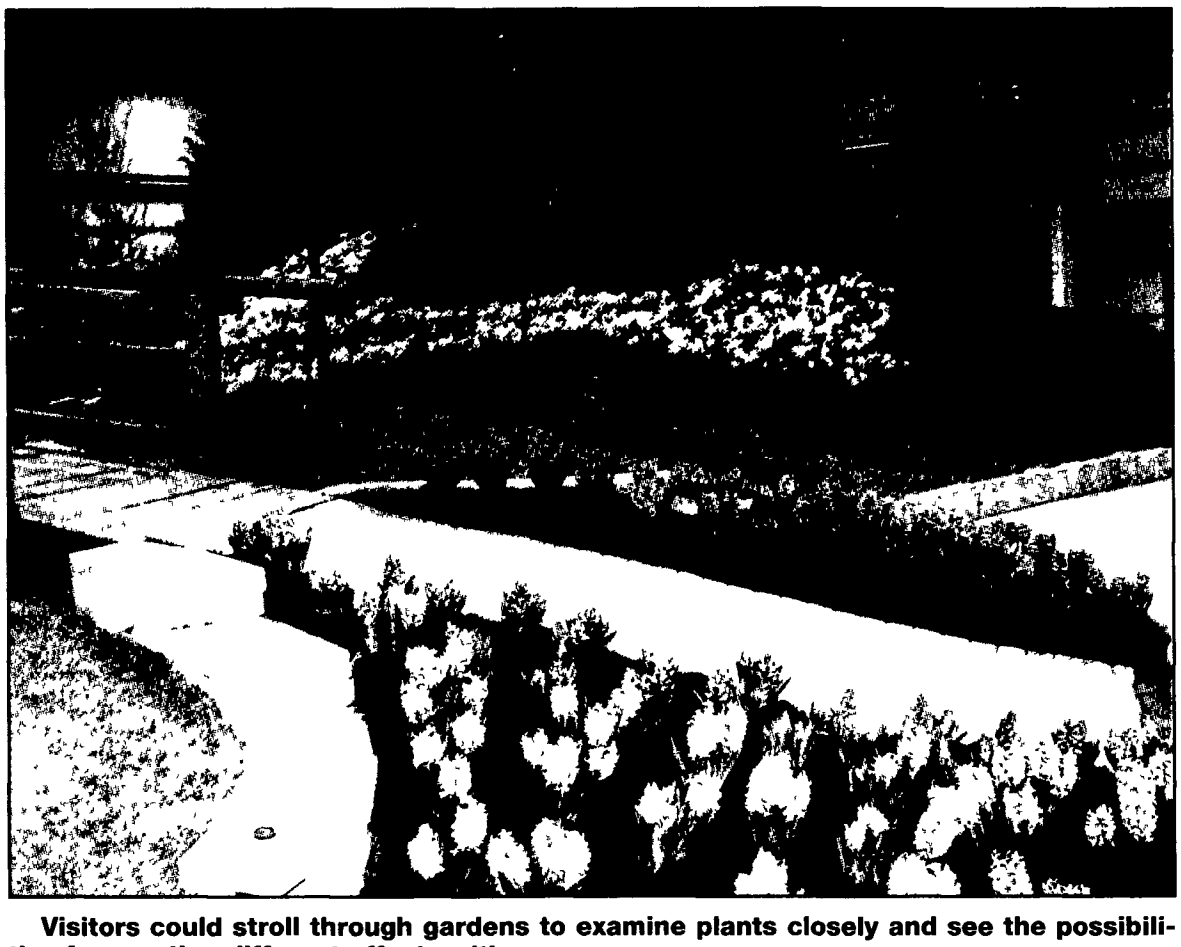
Kris Bortner, Barb Hively, and Jeff Bollinger from Hively Farm and Nursery, Dover, demonstrate water pumps featuring a sitting frog, flying frog, and poppy flower.

Want plantings to create visual impact? Examine this concept.

Members from the Alliance for the Chesapeake Bay unveil a new Integrated Pest Management initiative. The purpose was to introduce less-toxic pest controls available for home backyards to reduce pesticide impacts on local wildlife and water quality. Studies have shown the source of pesticide runoff is from lawn pesticides rather than agriculture fields.



Visitors could stroll through gardens to examine plants closely and see the possibilities for creating different effects with masonry.

On Being a Farm Wife
(and other hazards)

Joyce Bupp

Their smiling faces never fail to boost my spirits.

Some are old-fashioned smiles of purple features on cream-colored faces, others may be bluish-black grins beaming against sunshiny yellow. Newer versions of the smiles sport pastels of coral features against pale salmon, or contrasting shades of lavendar.

Pansies — of all colors — are my favorite early spring flower.

One of my most cherished memories of my maternal grandparents is the garden-catalog-perfect bed of pansies they raised each spring during their retirement years. The faces of my grandparents will forever be entwined in my thoughts with the perky "personality" smiles of the pansies for which they had especially-bountiful green thumbs.

But the life span of pansies is usually shortened by a spell of heat that inevitably blankets us somewhere from late May to early June, often just as they are at their most beautiful. So it was delightful when, in the last few years, pansies began to show up at garden centers in early fall, allowing us to enjoy them instead for months.

Thriving in moist, cool temperatures, pansies are a perfect flower for wintering in our barely-heated greenhouse. In fact, through the brutal winter we have just (hopefully) bid goodbye, they were among the few plants that remained a healthy and thriving green. With the encouragement of a little sunshine, they have burst into cheerful blooms earning relocation to in-house places where their smiles can be more readily shared.

In the midst of enjoying the pansy outburst, I suddenly remembered one recent day that a batch of forcing bulbs were probably forcing their way out of their pots. Late last fall, The Farmer found them on sale during an equipment parts run and surprised me with the collection of daffodil and hyacinth potential.

Since it was then already late in the year, the bulbs were quickly tucked into pots, and packed into a couple of large cardboard boxes stuffed full with a thick, insulating cocoon of crispy-dry maple leaves. After chilling out for a couple of weeks on the basement porch, they got a hasty relocation to the ground cellar one night in December when temperatures headed for the bottom of the thermometer.

One bright morning last week, I lugged the boxes outside the ground cellar so the pots could begin slowly warming. In a few weeks, they should be ready to join the pansies in adding floral cheeriness to lingering chilly days.

As spikes of greening grass begin poking through the dormant, dull, ice-crusted outside of the past many month, we collectively embrace the signs of returning life and cheery color. Pussy willows have pushed out furry catkins and the graceful cascading limbs of weeping willows wear a golden cast of color. Buds of forsythia shrubs fatten and show early hints of the burst of yellow they will soon erupt into.

And a friend at church notes that her crocus have been blooming for days at a sheltered corner of their family's home.

If there was any doubt about the inevitable turn of the season, even with pansy smiles parked on the kitchen window, it was erased a few days ago. Parked outside the garage after an extended absence was our old, heavy-duty, faithful riding mower, fresh from the machine shop and a lengthy overhaul.

Could those pansy smiles really be knowing grins that lawn mowing season is about to start?

On the other hand, it's a better alternative than shoveling snow.

Rob Marshall shares his expertise to help the home gardener select and maintain a hobby greenhouse that will provide many years of pleasure. Class is Tuesday, April 22, 7 p.m.-9:15 p.m.

• Photographing Your Garden — Liz Ball will teach how to improve your gardening, as well as your photography, by looking at the garden through the lens of your camera. More a discussion of the art of taking photos than of photographic equipment, this talk is not just about photography but also about design and the beauty of the garden. Liz believes that taking good photographs of your garden not only is a satisfying creative experience, but that it makes you a better gardener. Her slides feature mistakes and how to correct them, illustrate basic principles of composition and focus, and celebrate flowering plants. Liz is a respected garden columnist and gardener from Philadelphia. She is author of The Pennsylvania Gardener's Guide and other books about gardening in Pennsylvania. Copies of her books will be available for purchase. Class is Tuesday, April 29, 7 p.m.-9:15 p.m.

Drama Portrays Milton Hershey's Life Story

HERSHEY (Dauphin Co.) — Just in time for the Hershey Centennial celebration, the Milton Hershey School Alumni Association (MHSAA) is bringing the town's founder home, and tickets are on sale now to see him.

"Milton Hershey, The Play," the original drama portraying the life of the candy magnate and area benefactor produced by Pennsylvania Historic Dramas, is coming to the Milton Hershey School (MHS) next month.

According to a statement issued by the Alumni Association, "The play is MHSAA's way of inviting everyone into the special world that Milton and Catherine Hershey created, a miracle world built on love of others. We want everyone to share in this one-of-a-kind, magnificent story."

Public performances will be at the Milton Hershey School's Founders Hall on Friday, April 4 at 8 p.m., and Saturday, April 5 at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Tickets are $15, and $12.50 for seniors and students, and are available at GIANT Center Box Office (717) 534-3911.

Danger Beneath Your Kitchen Sink?

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — As part of National Inhalants and Poisons Awareness Week, Drug Free Pennsylvania reminds parents that children can use common household and office products to get high, they are easy to obtain, easy to hide and inexpensive.

More than 1,000 household products can be used. The fumes from these various products are inhaled, sniffed or snorted from a bag or huffed from an inhalant-soaked rag or sock. Hair and deodorant sprays, furniture wax, model airplane glue, spray paint, gasoline, nail polish remover, and correction fluid are just a few of the items that can kill if inhaled, even the first time.

Inhalant abuse causes intoxication and can cause short-term memory loss, kidney or liver damage, and even death. Some of the symptoms are unusual breath odor or chemical odor on clothing; nausea or loss of appetite; spots and/or sores around the mouth; signs of paint or other products on the face or body; slurred speech; drunk, dazed or dizzy appearance; and red or runny eyes or nose.

Before sixth and seventh grades, inhalants are the third most popular substance of abuse after tobacco and marijuana, states Beth Winters, executive director and general counsel of Drug Free Pennsylvania. There is no typical profile of an inhalant user, they are represented by both sexes and all socioeconomic groups throughout the State.

According to the Partnership for a Drug-Free Americas 2002 study, most parents are in the dark regarding the popularity and dangers of inhalant use. It showed that 18 percent of teens between the ages of 12 and 17 reported having tried inhalants, while only 1 percent of parents believe their child had tried inhalants. We urge parents to become better educated about inhalants and to communicate with their children, said Winters. Knowledge is powerful in the fight against substance abuse.

Mix It With Milk 'N Jell-O Program Kicks Off

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — What does milk, Jell-O, marshmallow cream, and strawberry jam have in common?

They're all a part of Elizabeth Adams' prize-winning milk creation, "Stuck in a Jam" in the January Mix It With Milk™ 'n JELL-O monthly contest.

The "Mix it with Milk 'n Jell-O" contest, a partnership between the dairy promotion checkoff program and Jell-O, recently kicked off to encourage kids to create flavored drinks that include milk, Jell-O products, and other fun, flavorful mix-ins.

The national contest asks kids ages 6-12 to create their own recipe using white milk and Jell-O brand gelatin and/or pudding and features a different contest theme each month. Each monthly winner, including Adam's will receive $1,000, a Jell-O prize pack and a trip for two to New York City to compete against other monthly winners in a "Milk Mix Off" in November. Adams' a resident of Parkersburg, W.Va. will compete in the National "Milk Mix Off."

"Dairy farmers benefit when we can develop programs that work to get kids excited about drinking milk by encouraging fun and creativity," says Scott Higgins, CEO of the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program and the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council Mid East. "If kids get in the habit of drinking milk when they're young, they're more likely to choose milk throughout their lives which helps to increase dairy demand for the long term."

Lycoming County Searches For Dairy Promotion Candidates

WILLIAMSPORT (Lycoming Co.) — The Lycoming County Dairy Princess Committee is searching for candidates to vie for princess. Dairy Princess contestants must be between the ages of 16 and 24, and be connected to the dairy industry through herself or a parent's employment. This includes working on a dairy farm, raising replacement heifers, selling dairy supplies, working in a dairy procesing plant, or working in a dairy store. She also could qualify by owning a 4-H or FFA dairy project. She must be single and never have had a child.

The winner of the dairy princess pageant will serve Lycoming County dairy industry for a year making appearances at schools, malls, radio stations, and grocery stores. She will also speak to farm and non-farm groups.

The Lycoming County Dairy Princess Committee is also looking for dairymaid candidates to assist the princess throughout the year. These candidates must be 13 years old and have a relative involved in the dairy industry or is herself. She also could have a FFA or 4-H dairy project. If interested, contact Wanda Derr at the number listed above.

Springtime Desserts You'll Love

RAINBOW POUND CAKE

½ cup butter
3 cups sugar
½ cup Crisco
3 cups flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
6 eggs
1 teaspoon lemon flavoring

Blend butter, sugar, and Crisco. Add flour, baking powder, vanilla, milk, eggs, and lemon flavoring.

Beat on high speed until mixed well. The secret of this cake is the more you beat, the better it is. Grease and flour pan. Put ⅓ of the dough in the baking pan. Divide the rest into 2 bowls. Put red food coloring in one and then pour over yellow dough. Put green food coloring in other bowl and pour over the top of the red dough. Bake cake 1¼ hours at 350°.

BUTTER PECAN BANANA CAKE

Cake:
1 package Duncan Hines Moist Deluxe Butter Recipe Golden cake mix
4 eggs
1 cup mashed ripe bananas (about 3 medium)
¼ cup vegetable oil
½ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract (may also add 1 teaspoon of banana flavoring)
1 cup chopped pecans
Frosting:
1 cup coarsely chopped pecans
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 container Duncan Hines sour cream frosting

Preheat oven to 325°. Grease and flour 10-inch Bundt or tube pan. Combine cake mix, eggs, bananas, oil, sugar, milk, and vanilla (banana) extract in large mixing bowl. Beat at low speed with electric mixer until moistened. Beat at medium speed for 2 minutes. Stir in 1 cup chopped pecans. Pour into prepared pan. Bake 50 to 60 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 25 minutes. Invert onto cooling rack. Cool completely.

Place 1 cup coarsely chopped pecans and butter in skillet. Cook on medium heat, stirring until pecans are toasted. Combine nut mixture and frosting in small bowl. Cool until spreading consistency. Frost cake.

PINEAPPLE SQUARES

3½ cups flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ pound butter
1 egg
1 cup sugar

Blend ingredients together with a pastry blender as for pie crust. Place half of crumbs in a greased dripping pan, approximately 11×15-inch. Add filling remaining. Crumbs on top. Bake in 350° oven for 1 hour.

Filling:

Cook 1 large can crushed pineapple with a cup of sugar and 3 tablespoons of corn starch until thick. Cool and spread in pan (if using unsweeted pineapple, you may want to add more sugar.

It is better when doubled. You can also make this with any flavor pie filling in a can (i.e., cherry, blueberry, etc.). Just empty the filling into the pan on top of the crumbs.

Lemon Icebox Pie is easy and light. It adds just the right touch to celebrate spring.

Featured Recipe

Celebrate the season with delicious desserts in hues that capture the spirit of springtime?

Here's a refreshing springtime recipe from Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk. It requires 30 minutes to prepare and three hours chill time before serving.

LEMON ICEBOX PIE

Make one 9-inch pie:
1½ cups vanilla wafer crumbs (about 40 wafers)
¼ cup butter, melted
Filling:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1¼ cups water, divided
14-ounce can Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk (NOT evaporated milk)
3-ounce package or 6 tablespoons presweetened lemonade-flavored drink crystals

Combine crumbs and butter; press firmly on bottom and up side of 9-inch pie plate. Chill.

Meanwhile, in small saucepan, sprinkle gelatin over ¼ cup water; let stand 1 minute. Over low heat, stir until gelatin dissolves; set aside.

In medium mixing bowl, combine sweetened condensed milk, remaining 1½ cups water and lemonade crystals; mix well. Stir in gelatin mixture. Pour into prepared crust.

Chill at least 3 hours or until set. Garnish as desired. Refrigerate leftovers.

DUMP CAKE

20 ounce can crushed pineapple
1 can cherry pie filling white or yellow cake mix
2 sticks oleo or butter
nuts

Dump 20 ounce can crushed pineapple in pan. Dump 1 can cherry pie filling in pan. Mix them until blended together.

Sprinkle white or yellow cake mix and cut 2 sticks oleo or butter over the filling. Sprinkle nuts on top (or omit the nuts).

Clair Long
York

FLAKY PINEAPPLE SQUARES

4 cups flour
1 pound butter or margarine
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 cups drained crushed pineapple
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
confectioners' sugar

Cut butter or margarine into flour with pastry blender or two knives. Add sour cream and vanilla. Mix well. Refrigerate for 2 hours.

Meanwhile, cook pineapple, sugar, and cornstarch over medium heat. Be sure to stir the mixture constantly, until thick and clear.

Preheat oven to 325°. Roll out one-half of the dough and place in the bottom of an ungreased jelly roll pan. Add cooled filling and spread over dough. Cover with remaining rolled-out dough. Bake at 325° for 55 minutes or until squares are golden brown.

Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Cut into 70 squares and refrigerate if not used within a short time.

Debt Survival: Make Good Choices

I received a call the other day from a woman who was having financial difficulties. She had questions about whether she should take advantage of a credit repair company's offer to "clean up" her credit report.

Of course, a red flag went up when she mentioned the company being able to 'repair" her or anyone's credit report. This type of service cannot change your credit status. Anything it can do; you can do yourself for free. Save your money. If you are feeling pressures caused by a tight budget, watch out for the red flag "opportunities" that can make your financial situation even more difficult.

What are the choices that can get you into more financial trouble? First of all, be careful of advertising or offers with easy ways to reduce your financial problems. Don't be tempted with "quick fix" offers. Don't compound an already difficult financial problem with bad choices. There are businesses that thrive on people in financial distress; don't become their next prey.

"Payday" Lenders: this is a simple offer to let you post date a check for sometime in the short future. They in turn loan you the money (an amount less than what is written on your check) until the end of the agreed time period at which time the lender will cash your check. The difference between the amount of your check and the amount of cash you get in return is interest or the loan fee. Sound simple? It's expensive.

This can go on and on with the lender continuing to refinance the loan and you in return receive less and less of your own money back. Your bad situation just got worse.

Short of cash and your clothes washer just died? Don't be fooled that rent-to-own is an economical way to replace or obtain appliances, electronic equipment, furniture, or anything else. Rent-to-own is marketed to people who cannot qualify for credit, but can use the items while purchasing through the applied "rental" method. Items purchased through rent-to-own often cost you more than three times the cash price.

Often times, the items are not even new, but used. For example, a "rented" 19-inch television valued at $300 would cost you $16 per week for 52 weeks. Do the math. That's a total of $832. You just spent $532 in interest (254 percent on an annual basis). Secondly, if you miss one payment, the item will be repossessed and you have lost your total investment.

Waiting for your tax refund? Need a loan? How convenient to use a tax refund anticipation loan. Red flag! You will be "advanced" your refund at the time of the loan note less the interest rate. The interest agreement will usually be estimated for 2 to 3 months. Your tax refund will arrive in 30 days — one month. So, the bottom line is that you will pay for a very short term loan at a very high rate of interest that was calculated for a longer term than needed costing you a lot more money than you need to pay. The best advice here is to avoid tax refund anticipation loans. Wait for your full refund. By filing electronically, you may be able to get your refund more quickly.

Now you feel that all else has failed and you need debt counseling.

You've heard the advertisements on the radio for debt counseling and that sounds like something you could use.

If you decide to choose this route, find a nonprofit debt counselor. Even the nonprofit counselors may charge a fee, but they will be less than a for-profit counselor.

Sometimes it is difficult to tell the difference between non-profit and for-profit because for-profits have names like "foundation or service."

Before doing anything, contact your state attorney general's office, local legal counseling services, or a consumer help hotline to check them out. Also, talk to people who have used their services.

You may want to think twice about companies who accept your money and pay the bills for you. How do you know if the money is being paid in a timely manner or at all? You may find that your creditors will still be calling you at home. Also, not all of your creditors will want to get involved in lowering your interest rate or altering your payment schedules, but you won't know this until after you've paid your "fee."

It's best to work with your creditor direct to make alternative arrangements before paying someone else to do it for you. Check debt counseling companies out thoroughly.

How about telemarketing opportunities for jobs and other "get rich quick schemes?" You've been reading the newspapers and watching the commercials: real estate investments, work at home opportunities, are just a few of these "opportunities." There are usually set-up or start-up fees and/or an aggressive effort to sell you something with many promises in return. Don't hold your breath for the promises to come true. Use common sense; if it seems too good to be true, it probably is.

Any advertisement which markets easy money almost always waves the red flag as a rip-off.

Never agree to buy anything over the phone, give out your social security number, bank account numbers, or personal information to a telemarketer. Do you really know who you are talking to?

If you are truly interested in the offer, ask them to send you detailed information in the mail before you agree to anything. This will give you time to check them out and read the actual terms in writing. If the offer is only good while you are on the phone, then you know for sure that it is a scam. Red flag - don't fall for this one no matter how tempting! You will pay somehow in the end. The only guaranteed winner in this offer is the person selling the scam.

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send a self-addressed stamped envelope. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible. Check your recipe to make sure you copy the right amounts and complete instructions for making the recipe. Sometimes we receive numerous answers to the same request, but cannot print each one.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address. You may also e-mail questions and answers to LGOOD.EPH@LNPNEWS.COM

QUESTION — Jean Mitchell, Lewisburg, is looking for a recipe to make blueberry whoopie pies.

QUESTION — J. Howdyshell, Bridgewater, Va., would like to know how to preserve honey. She was given some honey on the comb and would like to preserve it for future use.

QUESTION David Manilla, Worcester, and his family have enjoyed roadside and firehouse chicken barbecues. He would like the recipe for the spray that is applied at several intervals in cooking. This spray, he says, appears to be a combination of cider vinegar, Worcestershire and soy sauce, butter or margarine, and an assortment of seasonings. There is also a variety of seasoned rubs that may or may not be applied in conjunction with this spray. He is interested in a non-commercial rub that is not overpowering.

QUESTION — A reader would like a recipe for McKinley Pie and any history on the pie.

QUESTION — Nancy Wallace, New Holland, is looking for a place in Lancaster County where she can purchase fresh coconut that is already grated. She needs it to make Easter eggs and fresh coconut cake for Easter. Years ago, she writes, it could be purchased at farmers markets.

QUESTION — Peggy Thoman, Hanover, writes that her church is planning for the first time a pancake breakfast for Easter morning. She would appreciate recipes for various syrups other than the traditional syrups — particularly fruit syrups.

QUESTION — Peggy Wilson, while reading a 1911 Inglenook Cookbook, found recipes calling for graham flour. In the miscellaneous section of the book she found that graham flour was listed as 20 pounds wheat flour, five pounds bran, and 2½ pounds short. Peggy would like to know what "shorts" are. In the same book she found recipes were mixed in a double boiler with boiling water underneath, then put in a fireless cooker. She would like to know what a fireless cooker is. Another utensil that was used to bake breads was called a Gem pan, and she asks, what is a Gem pan.

QUESTION — Eileen Schuler, Fleetwood, asks where chocolate confectioners' sugar can be found. The ingredient was listed in the prize-winning recipe for the Greatest Cocoa Cake contest at the Pennsylvania Farm Show. Several other readers also inquired about this. We asked the person who baked the prize winning cake. She said it can be purchased at Weis Markets in the Adams County area. However, several people who looked for it in other areas, said that Weis did not carry chocolate confectioners' sugar. No problem, according to the champion, Krista Cunningham. She said, "Make your own." She adds about ½ cup baking cocoa powder to a pound of regular confectioners' sugar or more to taste. If any of our readers know where chocolate confectioners' sugar can be purchased, let us know.

QUESTION — Richard Deckner, Quakertown, wants a recipe for a dropped Welsh cookie.

QUESTION — R. Diehl, Bloomsburg, wants a recipe for hamburg pin wheel with gravy.

QUESTION — Shirley Schwoerer, Wysox, wants to know if sesame seeds can be sprouted. She is familiar with alfalfa seed sprouting.

QUESTION — Ralph Kieffer, Halifax, wants a recipe for Aunt Flossie's tomato soup, which he heard is printed in a Lancaster County cookbook.

ANSWER — For Albert Condon, who wanted vegetarian recipes, here is a recipe from LaRue Herriman, Hughesville.

Old Fashioned Potato Soup With Dry Rivels

4 medium-sized potatoes
1½ quarts water
2 tablespoons butter
Salt
½ cup flour
1 egg
¼ cup milk
½ cup cream

Cook diced potatoes in salt water until soft. Add butter. To make rivels, rub egg and flour together, then add milk. These are best made by cutting through mixture with two forks. Drop rivels, which are no larger than a cherry stone, into boiling potatoes, stirring to prevent packing together. Cook five minutes with kettle covered. Add cream. Garnish with parsley.

ANSWER — Mrs. Esh requests recipes to make cookie bars such as oatmeal raisin that tastes like those made by Kitchen Kettle, Intercourse. She also sent in varieties made with rhubarb and with zucchini.
Thanks to Margaret Koser, Lancaster, for sending a recipe for bars. Also LaRue Herriman, Hughesville, sent a recipe for oatmeal raisin cookies.

Oatmeal Raisin Bars

¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup water
2 cups raisins

Cook together sugar, cornstarch, water, and raisins until mixture is clear and thick.
Cream:
½ cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
Add:
1½ cups flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups oats
1 tablespoon water

Put half of the crumbs in 8x8-inch pan. Pat firmly. Pour on raisin mixture. Then add 1 tablespoon water to remaining crumbs then crumble over raisins. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes.

Rhubarb Oatmeal Bars

1½ cups flour
¼ cup chopped walnuts
1 cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1½ cups rolled oats
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup butter
10-ounces strawberry-rhubarb jam

Combine flour, oats, sugar, salt, and cinnamon. Add butter and blend to produce coarse crumbs. Press half the mixture into a greased 19x13-inch pan. Spread with jam. Top with remaining crumbs and walnuts. Bake at 375 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

Cinnamon Zucchini Bars

¾ cup butter
½ cup sugar
½ cup brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1¾ cups flour
1½ teaspoon baking powder
2 cups shredded zucchini
1 cup coconut
¾ cup walnuts, optional
Frosting:
2 cups confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix all ingredients together and bake in 9x13-inch pan for 35 minutes at 350 degrees. Mix frosting and spread on warm bars.

Oatmeal Cookies

1 cup raisins
1 cup water
1 cup soft shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
¾ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups rolled oats

Cook raisins and water in saucepan until only five tablespoons of liquid are remaining; drain and reserve liquid. Mix shortening, sugar, and eggs together; stir in cooled raisin liquid and add vanilla. Sift flour, soda, and salt together; add to raisin liquid mixture. Stir in oats and cooked raisins. Drop by teaspoons about two inches apart onto lightly greased cookie sheets. Cook for 10-12 minutes at 375 degrees.

ANSWER — Thanks to Anna Beiler, Gordonville,for sending a recipe for potato doughnuts. Kay Wildasen, Seven Valleys, had requested a recipe for potato doughnuts that taste like those served at the Food Court during the Pennsylvania Farm Show. Anna writes that she never tasted those at the Farm Show, but her hubby and their six children love the potato doughnuts made with this recipe.

Potato Rolls Or Doughnuts

2 cups warm water
1 cup sugar
2 packages yeast
4 teaspoons salt
1 cup melted shortening
5 beaten eggs
2 cups mashed potatoes
10 cups bread flour, more or less as needed

Boil potatoes and mash with milk. Dissolve sugar in warm water and add yeast. Add eggs and shortening, then 5 cups flour and salt, and beat well. Add potatoes and beat again. Add remaining flour. If dough is too stiff, add some water. A stiff dough makes a drier doughnut. Punch down in 15 minutes, and again in 30 minutes. Let rise again for one hour. Roll out one-inch thick and cut shape of doughnuts preferred. Let rise at least one hour and fry in hot oil. She prefers using Fry Mas.

For a delicious cinnamon doughnut, use ends. Roll out like sticky buns, but add just enough water to dough to make ends stick together. Sprinkle with cinnamon, roll tight like a jelly roll. Cut one-inch widths with knife. Let rise and fry like doughnuts.

Glaze:

4 cups 6X sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup water
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons milk
Vanilla to taste

Mix first three ingredients until smooth. Add the remaining ingredients and heat to boiling point. Keep warm while dipping doughnuts into glaze.
For Cream Filled:
3 pounds 6X-sugar
1¼ pounds Crisco or Quik Blend
1 cup cold water
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat on high speed until it is at least doubled in size. Fill doughnut shells and coat with doughnut sugar.

Freeze all leftover doughnuts the same day they are made to preserve freshness.

ANSWER — Joyce Shoemaker requested a recipe to make old-fashioned caramel custard. Thanks to the Newswangers from Narvon for sending this recipe.

Old-Fashioned Caramel Custard

In a 4-quart kettle, melt ⅓ cup butter until browned. Add 2 cups brown sugar.

Stir over heat until dark brown and smooth. Remove from heat, about 2 cups or more milk. Scrape the sugar loose from the bottom of the kettle. Put 3 quarts milk in the kettle. Let stand. Beat 4 eggs, add 1 scant cup Clear Jel OR cornstarch, ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, add enough water until mixture is of pouring consistency, beat until smooth. Pour mixture into the milk and put back on heat stirring constantly until thick and boiling. Remove from heat and add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cool.

ANSWER — T. C. Wills, Frederick, requested a recipe for a cheese pineapple pocket that she remembers her grandmother making during the Easter season. Thanks to Lee Laverty, Mount Joy, for e-mailing the recipe. Lee writes, "My Baba used to make this delicious pastry when I was little. I remember visiting my grandparents and when you walked into the house, you could smell all the wonderful pastries she had been making all day before our arrival.

This is a Slovak recipe and I hope that you enjoy it as much as I did."

Pineapple Slices

⅔ cup milk, scalded and cooled
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cake yeast
1 cup butter
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
3 yolks, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Dissolve sugar and yeast in warm milk, set aside. Sift flour, then measure. Add butter and mix as for pie crust. Add yeast and milk mixture and yolks. Mix well. Divide dough into two parts. Roll one part to fit 12x18-inch cookie sheet, then spread with the cheese filling and top with cooled filling over the dough. Roll remaining dough to fit over the top. Let rise until light, about one hour. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until brown. Frost with thin frosting and sprinkle with chopped nuts or coconut.
Fillings:

Cheese Spread

2 eggs
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 pound cottage cheese (small curd)

Put cottage cheese into a bowl and whip until creamy. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Set aside.

(Turn to Page B9)

Pineapple Filling:
1 can crushed pineapple
¾ cup water plus 3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup sugar
1 egg yolk, beaten

Combine cornstarch and sugar, add pineapple and water, cook until thick and clear. Add beaten yolk and mix well. Let cool before spread on dough.

ANSWER — Doris Myers, Hughesville, writes that her mother, who is 88 years old, lost her mother at a young age. She remembers her mother baking bread and reserving some of the liquid to bake a chocolate cake. Doris would like to surprise her mother by baking a cake like that if someone can send in the recipe. The cake was baked the same day as the bread. Thanks to Lee Laverty, Mount Joy, who writes that she doesn't know if this is the recipe Doris wants but it does call for yeast that would have been in the bread dough.

Chocolate Yeast Cake
1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
3 eggs, separated
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
¼ cake yeast
½ cup lukewarm water
2¾ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons hot water combined with 1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening until smooth, add sugar gradually. Cream well. Add egg yolks and melted chocolate. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water, add to creamed mixture and beat well. Sift together three times, flour and salt. Add alternately with milk and beat well. Add baking soda mixed with hot water. Add vanilla and beat until smooth. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour batter into two 10-inch lined cake pans. Bake for 45 minutes in 350 degree oven.

ANSWER — Helen Ross, Coatesville, wanted the recipe for the starter to make Amish friendship bread. Thanks to E.L. Schreiter, Hamburg; Susan Hurley, Newville; Holly Lutz, and others for sending recipes. Although Helen had the recipe for the bread, some of our readers may not so that is also being printed.

E.L. Schreiter's Starter For Friendship Cake Or Bread
1 package yeast
¼ cup warm water
In crock, dissolve yeast in water. Add:
1 cup milk or potato water
1 cup flour
¼ cup sugar

Stir with wooden spoon until smooth. Cover with cheesecloth and set in warm place for two days. Feed it again with the same amounts of milk, flour, and sugar. Let stand two days. Then it is ready to use. Continue to feed it as follows every week or the starter will "die."
1 cup flour
1 cup milk
½ cup sugar

Do not use same day as it is fed. Take out the amount needed to make a recipe before feeding. Never let dough starter to be reduced to less than one cup.

Amish Friendship Bread Starter And Bread Starter:
1 tablespoons active dry yeast
2 cups warm water
1 cup flour
1 cup sugar
1 cup milk

For starter:

Dissolve yeast in ½ cup warm water in a deep glass or plastic container. Stir in remaining warm water, flour, and sugar. Beat until smooth. Cover. (A large glass jar or bowl with a tight-fitting lid works best for this, but a ½-gallon zip baggie can also be used). Because the first batch of starter contains fresh yeast, you can skip the next set of directions and go directly to the instructions for splitting the starter.

Do not refrigerate. Do not stir with a metal spoon. The starter requires 10 days for fermentation.

Day 1 — Begin the starter
Day 2 — Stir with wooden spoon or squish in baggie
Day 3 — Stir with wooden spoon or squish in baggie

The "Stream Map of Pennsylvania" was completed in 1965 after a 30 year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee succeeded in creating a map of the highest detail possible. .a map that shows every stream and lake He painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto a 3 by 5 foot map.

The map sold extremely well - until it was lost several years later. Incredibly, the printer entrusted with the original drawing and printing plates declared bankruptcy, then carelessly hauled Higbee's 30 years of work to the landfill

The few remaining dog-eared copies became a prized fisherman's possession Professor Higbee was offered $400 for one of his last maps And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

The experts had always told Professor Higbee that reprints were impossible, because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue

Then, in 1991, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true Computers made it possible to reprint the map Holding an updated map, Howard said, "I never thought I'd live to see this day "

Then, by combining Professor Higbee's knowledge with computer technology -- the STREAM MAP OF OHIO was created

Adventures In Agriculture

Alan Ruschman explains to Hannah Zimmerman, 10, and Kelsey Plokhooy, 10, both of Easton, how corn is ground as Hannah cranks the grinding wheel.

A Western style saddle complete with labels and descriptions to educate the public attending Adventures in Agriculture.

Thomas Goodwin, 11, Mt. Bethel, demonstrates the proper way to rope an object.

NAZARETH (Northampton Co.) — Imagine opening the doors to the Palmer Park Mall, and hearing the crow of a rooster, the bark of a puppy, or the whirl of a steam engine. These were just some of the sounds during the Adventures in Agriculture Show at the Palmer Park Mall, February 7, 8, and 9.

Many folks got the chance to experience the wonderful benefits of agriculture first hand. Some of the interesting activities included a roping demonstration, a wool spinning demonstration, seeing eye puppy demonstrations, water table demonstrations, rug braiding demonstrations, honey bee demonstrations, and many more.

People even had the opportunity to touch a bear hide, feel a stalk of wheat, ask a Master Gardener questions, smell the needles of a concolor fir, see garden tractors, taste pork products, smell a rose, or see food products produced locally.

If asking questions was your choice; one could find out how wine is produced, how long it takes for a chick to hatch, how you can help to conserve the Bushkill Stream, how the barn was raised at Burnside Plantation, or what makes an engine run.

Youth of all ages loved the sights to be seen reminding all of the importance of agriculture in our daily lives.

Many of the youth had a wonderful time completing a scavenger hunt to win a prize. One of the booths attracting youth was the Northampton County 4-H booth; complete with over-size bubbles, "GOOP", rabbits, chicks, seeing eye puppies, horse supplies, rockets, and ropes flying through the air. Many educational and fun activities are offered by 4-H in Northampton County. In Pennsylvania, 4-H is coordinated by Penn State Cooperative Extension.

Rope 'em cowgirl! Kristine Carbone, 15, Mt. Bethel, demonstrates the lasso technique to the next volunteer.

The Alamo

The Alamo was the site of a heroic battle during a time when the United States and Mexico were fighting over who Texas should belong to. The Alamo was founded in 1718 as a Spanish mission. Later, it was used as a hospital and a place for army troops to stay.

When the Mexican dictator Santa Anna invaded Texas during the Texas Revolution, the Texans hid behind the Alamo's crumbling walls. Although they were outnumbered, the Texans did not give up for 12 days. Then, weakened by hunger and a constant barrage of cannon fire, the Texans were unable to keep the Mexicans out any longer. On March 6, 1836, the Mexicans broke into the Alamo. Of the original defenders, only a single woman and her child are known to have survived. The war ended soon after this.

The people who died at the Alamo are now remembered for their courage. For a long time afterward, whenever a Texan wanted to stir up his or her courage, he or she would say "Remember the Alamo!"

The Telephone

What do you use when you want to talk to a friend? Unless your friend is in the room with you, chances are you use the telephone. The telephone was invented in 1876 by Alexander Graham Bell.

Alexander Graham Bell was born on March 3, 1847, in Scotland. He was a scientist who wanted to discover a way for deaf people to communicate better. He studied the telegraph, which was then the only way to send messages long distance. But the telegraph required the use of Morse code, which made it difficult for many people to use. Bell believed that the same wires that transmitted the telegraph signal could also be made to send the sound of a human voice.

Bell created a working model of his device in 1876. He was granted a patent for his idea on March 7, 1876. On March 10, 1876, Bell sent the first telephone message ever. He said "Mr. Watson, come here. I want you," to his assistant. Since that time, people have worked to put up a large network of wires, receivers and, today, fiberoptic cable that is used to connect people who want to talk to one another.

Amish Friendship Bread

1 cup vegetable oil
1 cup sugar
2 cups flour
3 eggs
1 small vanilla instant pudding mix
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup milk

Cinnamon sugar:

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cinnamon

You will have about 1 cup batter left in addition to the 1 cup you saved for yourself. To the remaining batter, add vegetable oil, sugar, flour, baking powder, baking soda, eggs, milk, vanilla pudding mix, cinnamon, and salt.

Beat until well blended. Add one cup raisins, chocolate chips, or nuts if desired.

Grease two loaf pans well and sprinkle with cinnamon sugar, coating bottom well. Turn batter into pans, and sprinkle remaining cinnamon sugar onto tops of loaves. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour.

ANSWER — Here are two favorite supper recipes from Amanda Gates, Centre County Dairy Princess.

Old Fashioned Hamburg Gravy

Public Conflict Workshop Planned

GETTYSBURG (Adams Co.) — Penn State Cooperative Extension Service is offering a workshop on public conflict aimed at public officials, community leaders, and others who are interested in learning how to use conflict resolution techniques.

The all-day program, "Public Conflict: Turning Lemons into Lemonade, A Hands-On Workshop for Community Leaders," will be conducted April 1 at the Agricultural and Natural Resources Center, 670 Old Harrisburg Road, Gettysburg.

The workshop is designed to help participants understand conflict and use it productively. Topics to be covered include the benefits of conflict, conflict styles and strategies, the difference between positions and interests, reframing issues to broaden stakeholders' involvement and bridge their interests, speaking for oneself, various approaches to problem solving, and evaluating options, and reaching agreement.

Penn State Community and Economic Development Extension Agent Tim Collins from Penn State Cooperative Extension in Adams County will lead the program. Winifred McGee, Lebanon County extension director, will assist.

The workshop will also be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Lancaster County Penn State Cooperative Extension Service office, 1383 Arcadia Road, Lancaster. Attendees are expected from Lancaster, Lebanon, and York counties. A program fee will cover refreshments, lunch, and printed materials.

For more information about the program, contact Pat Simpson at the extension office in Gettysburg, (888) 472-0261 (toll free). Deadline for registration is Tuesday, March 25.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

We will probably both remember the winter of 2003. My husband, in the hospital, has round-the-clock nursing service for months and an opportunity to order whatever food he wants. Wait until he comes home and has to eat whatever I cook. Now I cook for myself, and then eat leftovers for a few days.

I rattle around in our house and keep myself busy with the 21st braided rug for a grandchild. There are also lots of flower plants and they need water plus attention for dropped blossoms and leaves. Our bird feeder has a Downy Woodpecker that is very attractive and I enjoy watching him eat. Church activities and visiting Allen fill the rest of my time.

One or another of our children usually drive a few hours from Delaware or New Jersey on weekends when they can get away from work. They not only visit their father but sometimes can attend basketball games that the nearby grandchildren play in. Our daughter video taped some games for them to watch later.

This winter we have had a big opossum and a bigger raccoon visit us in our garage. They came in the cat door hunting for food. Even after we removed the birdseed and the catfood, they still came back. They can surely make a grand mess.

One winter we left a big bag of black walnuts outside our cellar door. Then we kept hearing noises on our house roof and animals running across our front porch. It took us a few days to realize that squirrels were emptying the bag. In fact, I caught one in the bag and it surely scrambled out in a hurry. In the country you never know what animal will visit you next.

Apply For Dairy Of Distinction Award By April 15

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co) — Pennsylvania dairy farms are invited to apply for this year's Dairy of Distinction award from the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program Applications must be submitted by April 15

The award is based on the idea that attractive farmsteads enhance consumer confidence in the wholesomeness of milk and stimulate milk sales and public support for the industry. Dairies receiving the highest scores in each of 10 Pennsylvania districts will be awarded an 18- by 24-inch Dairy of Distinction sign to display in front of their farm

"This program is run by volunteers and recognizes the hard work and dedication of dairy producers who promote a positive image for the dairy industry," said Mike O'Connor, secretary of the Pennsylvania Dairy of Distinction program and professor of dairy science extension in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences

Roadside judging will take place in May Judges will look at factors that can be controlled by the farmer, such as clean and attractively finished buildings, neat landscaping, ditches, roads and lanes; and well-maintained fences They also will take into account other aspects of the farm, such as cleanliness of animals,the barnyard, feed areas and manure management

Winning farms will be notified in late June Because this is a yearly award, previous winners are reevaluated each year to see if they are still maintaining excellent standards

To receive an application, call Mike O'Connor at (814) 863-3913 or e-mail him at HYPERLINKmail to MOConnor@psu edu

Since 1987, Pennsylvania's Dairy of Distinction Program has recognized more than 700 dairy farms The Pennsylvania program is part of the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program, which also includes New York, New Jersey, and Vermont Dairies in these states can contact the program secretary in their state for applications.

HOW IS YOUR FARM SCORED?

Awards will be based upon neatness good maintenance, and other factors, which can be controlled by the farmer Attractive background scenery should not be weighed heavily in judging All judging observations should be made from a vehicle at one or more points on an adjacent public highway (or if farm is off the road, the nearest lane) Judging should give equal consideration to old wood construction and new construction of metal or concrete block

The award program may be used for subsequent advertising or promotion activities for dairy products or dairy farming Farmers who apply for awards agree that if selected they will cooperate with these activities and make all reasonable efforts to maintain both the exterior and interior of their properties in an acceptable condition

HOW THE JUDGING WORKS

Judging teams will visit the farms during the month of May Farms will be judged each year as the award is presented on an annual basis Any dairy failing to maintain appearance standards will be asked to remove their sign The Dairy of Distinction signs remain the property of the committee not the property of the dairy farmer All farms must achieve a compliance score of 90 percent on their Dairy of Distinction score card Your cooperative or milk handler will be contacted to approve your milk quality

RULES FOR THE DAIRY OF DISTINCTION AWARD

1 The Dairy of Distinction sign remains the property of the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program Committee (NEDFBP)

2 The post and bracket shall be supplied by and maintained by the dairy farmer NEDFBP suggests that a wood post 4 x 4 x 12 or iron pipe 2 x 12 be used Posts or pipe should be installed and maintained in true vertical position with 8 above ground Top of the bracket should be lower than six inches from the top of the post In addition NEDFBP suggests that the sign be mounted in a frame to provide additional stability

3 The sign shall be displayed in front of the dairy at roadside An attractive post and bracket, or other frame shall be used to display the sign No more than three signs should be displayed from the sign frame or post and all shall be of a style general size and quality comparable to the Dairy of Distinction sign The sign should be secured on all sides to avoid wind damage

4 Signs shall not be moved to other premises New owners of a Dairy of Distinction farm must apply to retain the sign

5 Replacement of damaged signs shall be at the discretion of the committee

6 No producer shall be charged with scoring or sign expenses

7 The judges decision will be final

8 Judging will take place between May 1 and May 31

9 Farms awarded a Dairy of Distinction sign in previous years will be judged between April 1 and April 30 If they do not qualify they will be rejudged between May 1 and May 31 so they have the opportunity to keep the sign

10 Farms that do not requalify will return the sign to their regional Dairy of Distinction Committee

Dairy of Distinction
2003 Pennsylvania Application

PURPOSE OF PROGRAM

Attractive dairy farms give the consumer greater confidence in the wholesomeness of milk and stimulate milk sales which encourages public support of the dairy industry. The award gives recognition to the dairy farmer for maintaining a well-kept farmstead.

ELIGIBILITY

All Northeast dairy farms producing milk for sale are invited to submit an application for the award. Dairies receiving the 10 highest scores in each of the 21 districts will receive an 18" x 24" Dairy of Distinction sign to be displayed in front of their farm

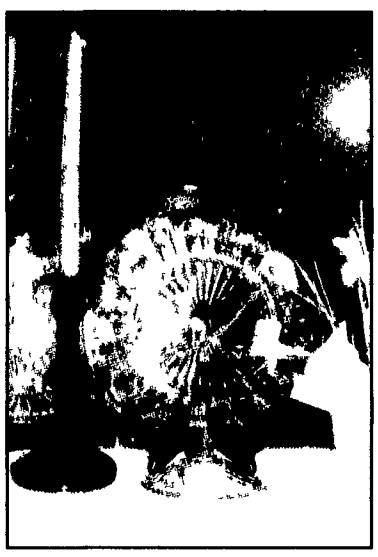
'Depression' Or 'Elegant' Glass?

Definitions Blur When Comparing More Than 70 Patterns

LOU ANN GOOD
Food And Family Features Editor

ELVERSON (Chester Co.) Confused about the value, historical significance, and names attributed to Depression Era glassware?

No wonder. More than 70 patterns in a variety of colors and clear glass dominated the market during the period of history known as the Great Depression of the 1930s.



A candle in the same shade of green complements the plate made in the Colonial Knife and Fork pattern.

According to Henry Nechemias of the Liberty Bell Glass Club, glassware was popular from the 1920s to the 1950s. Glass was generally cheaper than china and plastic was only in its early stages.

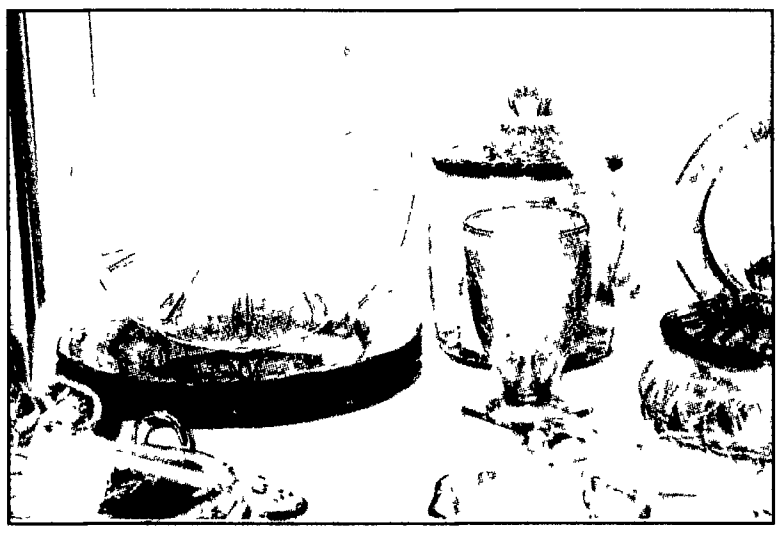
"Depression glass is most often used to describe colorful, inexpensive, machine-made glassware that was produced by pouring liquid glass into molds, allowing to cool, and sending if off to be sold or given away as premiums.

Inexpensive, mass-produced glassware was made by such companies as Federal, Hazel Atlas, Hocking/Anchor Hocking, Indiana, Jeanette, and many other U.S. glass companies.

In addition to the popular dinnerware pieces in a multitude of patterns, huge quantities of matching glass canisters, jars, measuring cups, creamers, and other kitchenware were also produced.

Even lamps, clocks, boxes, ashtrays, vases, and decorative knickknacks in a wide variety of colors and patterns were available.

Many housewives compiled extensive collections of free Depression Era glassware. A piece was often inserted in a bag of rolled oats. That was before ready-to-eat breakfast cereals flooded the market. And, most families consumed large amounts of rolled oats, because it was affordable and nutritious.



These Depression Era pieces show some of the different patterns available. The plate is Cherry Blossom, the tumbler is Horseshoe, the cookie jar, platter, and small candy jar is the Cameo pattern.

Depression-era glassware is highly collectible. And with its popularity, prices continue to rise.

Green, pink, and clear tones are found most often. Some of the patterns have been reproduced. But collectors can often spot the reproductions that lack the clarity of the original pieces.

"Another common type of glassware during this period is known as 'elegant glass,'" Nechemias said. This was generally a better quality glass with some level of handwork involved during the production. "Elegant glass" often included etched patterns, polished bottoms, higher quality materials, and minimal mold lines.

Colors were popular and common, but many "elegant glass" patterns were produced in crystal. Elegant glassware commanded higher prices then and now.

The most collectible today are Cambridge, Fostoria, and Heisey, but other leading producers of the better quality glass included Duncan and Miller, Fenton, Imperial, New Martinsville, and Westmoreland.

The lines between determining what glassware is Depression and what is elegant are blurry.

Nechemias said, "Perhaps 'depression' and 'elegant depression' might be a better differentiator."

More than 70 patterns of Depression Era glass will be on exhibit at the Liberty Bell Glass Club's annual show. Scheduled for Saturday, April 5, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Elverson Fire Company, the show is an excellent place to find unique pieces. In addition, exhibitors offer helpful information and answer questions pertaining to glassware.

Collectors interested in knowing more about glassware are also invited to attend the monthly meetings of the Liberty Bell Glass Club. It meets at 7:30 p.m. every third Tuesday of each month at the Central Baptist Church, 106 W. Lancaster Ave., Wayne. (Enter at back of building).

For more information about the club and its upcoming annual show, call Shirley Smith at (610) 466-9425.

Extensive collections of sparkling pieces, colors, and patterns of green Depression glass were displayed at last year's Liberty Bell Glass Club's annual show. Scheduled for April 5 this year, the show includes pieces from more than 70 patterns.

Liberty Bell Glass Show To Feature More Than 70 Patterns

ELVERSON (Chester Co.) — Twenty-seven years marks the anniversary of the Liberty Bell Glass Club's annual Show and Sale, Saturday, April 5 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Elverson Fire Hall.

More than 70 patterns in Depression glassware and china will be exhibited, made by famous manufacturers such as Fenton, Heisey, Anchor Hocking, Westmoreland, and Federal. Eighteen exhibitors are expected to display their wares. Most of the pieces can be purchased at the show.

If you have not yet attended one of these shows, you will be surprised at the dazzling appearance the numerous glass items make under the bright lights. Knowledgeable members will be happy to share their years of experience with visitors.

Gift certificates donated by the club will be awarded throughout the day. These may be used at any of the collectors or vendors stands present at the show.

Discount admission tickets are available until March 22 if you phone (610) 666-7033 and leave your name and address for mailing purposes.

The Elverson Fire Company makes light snacks available during the mid-day exhibit hours. The fire house is located on Rt. 23, three miles east of Morgantown. (Exit 22 on the Pennsylvania Turnpike).

The Liberty Bell Glass Club also extends an invitation to their monthly meetings conducted on the third Tuesday of each month at the Wayne Central Baptist Church in Wayne (along Rt. 30). Meetings are held in the rear of the building at 7:30 p.m.

Tour To Explore Chester County's Underground Railroad Connection

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.)—The Lancaster Mennonite Historical Society will sponsor a field trip on Saturday, April 12, to sites related to the Underground Railroad in Chester County.

Ronald and Norma Grace Strawbridge will lead the tour. The cost for members is $70.95; nonmembers, $80.95; and a special rate for groups of six or more, $64.95. Price includes all admissions, step-on guide fee, transportation, and the evening meal. Participants need to bring their own sack lunch for the noon meal.

Join fellow explorers on this "trackless trail." This tour, the first of possibly several on the Underground Railroad, will depart from the Lancaster Mennonite Historical Society at 8:00 a.m. and, after a stop in Christiana to learn about the Christiana Resistance of 1851, will spend the day focusing on the Underground Railroad, slavery, and abolition. The tour will return at approximately 7:00 p.m.

At the Chester County Historical Society, participants will be intrigued with the multi-media, hands-on exhibition, Just Over the Line. The display includes a map of the Underground Railroad routes and a timeline spanning 1565 to 1865. It explores the origin, operation, folklore, and twentieth-century legacy through interactive displays, historical documents, rare photographs, and engaging artifacts.

Chester County was an important junction of the Eastern Line, being home to many Quaker abolitionists who, with the free black community, formed a strong network. Some local residents, however, were pro-slavery. The display with the KKK robe hanging near a photograph of a local KKK march is chilling.

A step-on guide then will join the group in an exploration of numberous sites related to Chester County's role in the railroad without tracks or cars but with stations, conductors, and parcels. The guide, from American Heritage Landmark Tours, will provide expert information on Chester County participation in the abolition effort. Other sites of the day include the Longwood Progressive Quaker Meeting House and a drive past the Pines and other "station" homes.

The Old Freight Station has a display of artifacts. At the Birmingham Meeting House, participants will be introduced to the Quaker faith and the role of this meeting house in the Battle of Brandywine. The finale will be the appearance of Harriet Tubman with her story.

There is little documentation about this illegal activity, now regarded as noble, that operated through commitment and spontaneity, acts of courage and kindness between total strangers. After two and one-half centuries of slavery, this secret enterprise demonstrates that brutal systems and laws can be overturned from within—a people can be freed from bondage.

Heritage House Hosts Antiques Appraisal Show

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — On Saturday, April 12, Winters Heritage House, 47 East High Street, Elizabethtown, will host a second antiques appraisal show.

David Dickson, certified appraiser from Columbia, will return to offer verbal appraisals during a three-hour program. Dickson has invited Robert J. Sullivan, certified appraiser and auctioneer, and Donna Marcinko, expert in antique and Victorian jewelry, to join him.

The success of the October 2002 show generated great interest in sponsoring a second one. The Antique Show will be conducted in conjunction with already scheduled Heritage Day activities, which will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Hearth cooking and quilting demonstrations and antique exhibits are some of the other activities available to visitors that day.

Advance registration is required for appraisals. Museum staff will assign numbers on a limited first-come, first-served basis. The fee for the first item's verbal appraisal is $10, and $5 will be charged for two additional items. Up to three items for each number assignment will be accepted.

To register or for more information, call the museum at (717) 367-4672.

Kutztown University Hosts Unique Cultural Event

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — On March 29-30 regional crafts guilds of the Reading Berks and the Lehigh Valley Guilds of Craftsmen, have partnered with The Heritage Center at Kutztown University to bring a two-day long crafts and cultural event to the area.

Featured at this show will be the work of more than 100 of the area's finest professional craftsmen, as well as the latest craft creations from students in Kutztown University's Craft Department. Kutztown University Crafts Department professors will have an exhibit featuring their own works. Most of the fine handcrafted items at this annual event will be available for purchase. Many of the featured craftsmen will be demonstrating their unique techniques in making their craftwork. The work to be seen at this craft show will include a wide variety of works, ranging from historically accurate reproductions of Pennsylvania German crafts up to the original works produced by contemporary designer-craftsmen.

Bruce Baker, a nationally respected speaker on topics associated with the professional crafts industry, will provide educational workshop sessions throughout both days of the show. These topics will include marketing your products and yourself, booth presentation, the slide and jury processes, and more sessions aimed to interest the professional or aspiring artist or craftsman.

The dates for the First Annual Spring Fine Arts and Crafts Festival at Kutztown University are March 29-30 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturday, the 29th, and 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Sunday, the 30th. The location will be at the Kutztown University Fieldhouse. Donation requested is $3. Call (610) 372-9747 or for more information log on to www.rbcrafts.org/events/press.htm.

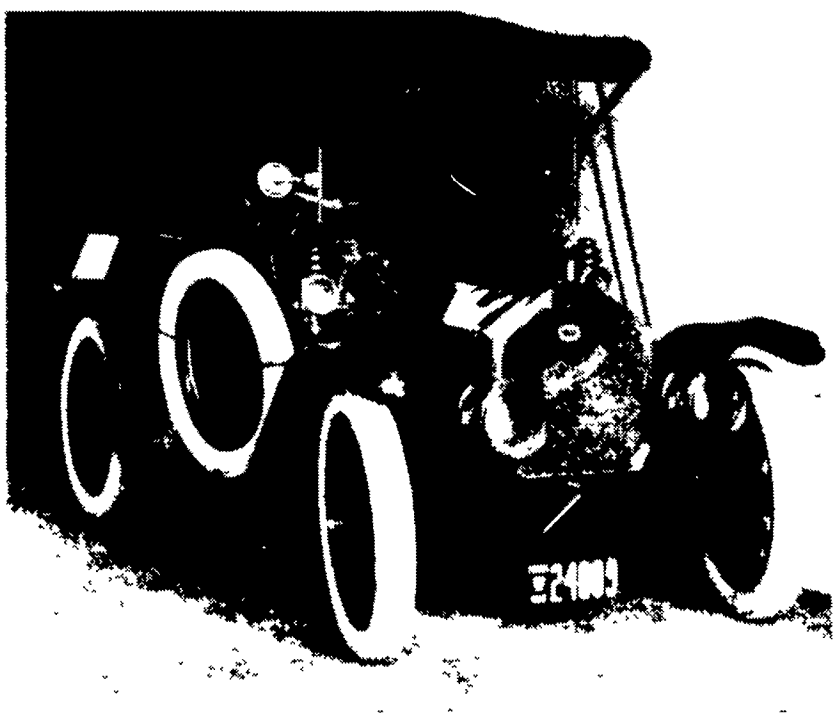
Pullman Touring Car History Sought



Paul Vaugh, Willow Street, purchased this 1910 Model K Pullman touring car and is trying to retrace its history. Vaugh said that Pullman automobiles were built in York from 1903-1917. This car was originally sold in York. Vaugh would like information about the original owners and also about the car, which later was traced to New York, Canada, and Kansas before being sold in the Hazelton area in 1950. The car was later found in a barn owned by a German farmer. Vaugh wants information about the car and its owner. Call (717) 464-4704.

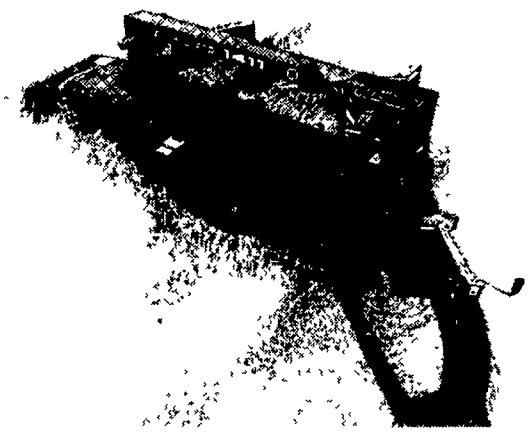
SAIL THROUGH TOUGH CROPS

3 Cutting Widths Match Your Needs.

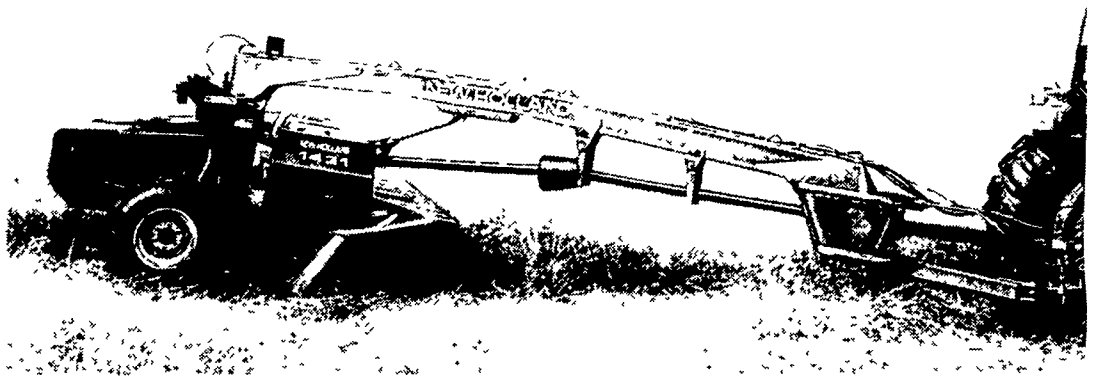
Choose New Holland Discbine® disc mower-conditioners for clean, fast cutting in your heaviest, toughest, wettest crops.

- The most advanced independent modular design for reliable performance, easy servicing and peace of mind.
- 102" chevron-design intermeshing rubber rolls for thorough, gentle conditioning and fast drydown
- Torsion-bar, roll-pressure system that maintains constant pressure for consistent conditioning, yet allows slugs to pass through without plugging



New Holland 1411

- Eight discs make a 10'4" cut through thick, tangled, wet crops—fast



Discbine® disc mower-conditioners give you the perfect combination of mowing reliability, fast drydown and no-hassle servicing.

New Holland 1431

featuring a 13' cutting width, and operates at high ground speeds in wet, heavy grass without plugging.

- A center pivot-tongue design
- Independent modular cutterbar with ten small-diameter cutting discs
- A full range of vertical and lateral flotation
- A cutterbar driven from both ends

New Holland 1441

12 discs to make a wide 15'7" cut through your heaviest, toughest crop conditions. You'll clear large fields fast and condition crops thoroughly for fast drydown.

- Standard swivel-hitch tongue gives you exceptional maneuverability to make tight headland turns and over-square corners.

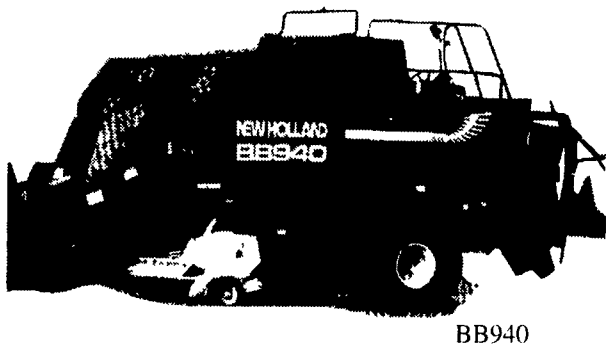
Built to last - season after season
Heavier, denser, consistent bales



BB940

I can bale earlier and later in the day as well as use larger windrows. My bales don't heat and cure better with less spoilage. Paul Reidenhour - Hamburg, PA

CASE IH — A TRADITION OF LEADERSHIP

DO YOU HAVE A NEED FOR A SPREADER WITH CAPACITY?

Binkley & Hurst Bros. Inc. May Have Exactly What You Need!

Pen Packed or Slurry — This Spreader Does The Job

Kuhn Knight Model 8040 Instock

Innovative Material-Flow Design

GET THE KNIGHT PROTWIN SLINGER ADVANTAGE

- Even and controlled spread pattern
- Eliminates material bridging
- Spreads the widest variety of material
- Simple and dependable
- Versatile, multi-purpose unit

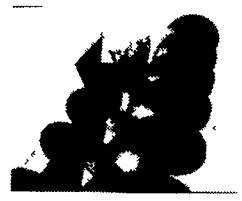
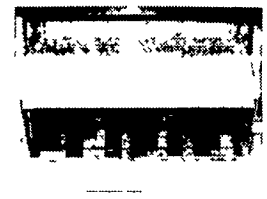
- The raised right auger moves material rearward while charging the left auger
- The rearward movement of material keeps the load level and helps eliminate material bridging and packing



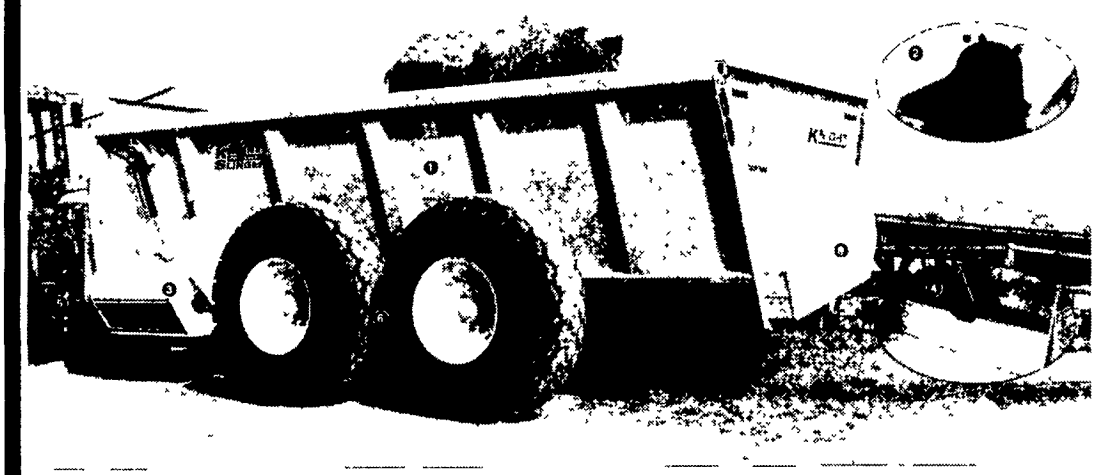
LEFT DISCHARGE AUGER
- The lower auger constantly moves material forward in a consistent and smooth flow to the discharge for an even spread pattern
- A close tolerance allows the auger to sweep the floor for fast material clean-out



HAMMER DISCHARGE AUGER
- The patented discharge design includes forged-steel, free-swinging hammers that fold back to absorb shock from most foreign objects
- The adjustable shroud allows easy hammer-clearance setting to maintain a superior spread pattern

FORGED-STEEL HAMMERS
- Free-swinging discharge hammers feature a replaceable nylon bushing and hardened leading edge Hard surfacing is available to promote longer life when spreading harsh materials

Loaded with Features and Built To Last!



❶ PATENTED BODY DESIGN

The steep-angle sides and unique load-leveling action helps eliminate material bridging and the need for plastic liners or movable augers

This unique design also helps eliminate excessive forward movement of material, even during start up, closed-door turns, and fine spreading

Continuously welded hopper seams help eliminate leakage and adds strength

❸ HAMMER DISCHARGE

The combination of the proven free-swinging hammer design, adjustable hydraulic door, and variable ground speed enables fine spreading control and material calibration

❶ The cleanout door provides access to the discharge opening and hammers for quick, easy cleanout

❹ CV PTO[A]

A constant velocity PTO provides a smooth transfer of power from the tractor to the spreader in sharp turns and during operation over uneven terrain

The driveline includes overload protection for the hammer shaft and initial drive components

❺ TANDEM OFFSET[B]

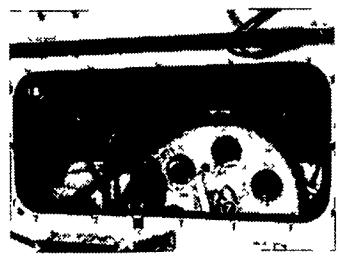
The tandem axle operates on greaseable poly bushing and is designed to carry less weight on the front tires This allows easier turning, less stress on the axle, better flotation and a smooth ride

Heavy-duty tublar tongue pulls directly from the axle for added strength

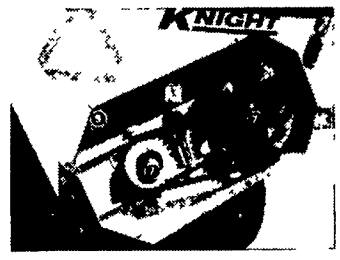
Several sizes of wheels with truck, implement, and high flotation tires are available to meet your specific needs

❻ EXCLUSIVE FRICTION-WELDED SPLINED SHAFTS

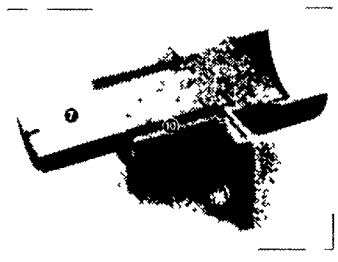
This state-of-the-art process provides superior strength and dependability over conventionally welded and keyed shafts



❼ FRONT OIL BATH DRIVE[AC]
- Dependable, heavy duty roller chain drive runs in oil and has spring-loaded, self-aligning poly tighteners for long life
- Final drive shafts and sprockets are splined for strength and serviceability



❽ REAR DRIVE COMPARTMENT[AC]
- The right auger is driven at the rear and is shear-pin protected
- Bearings chains and sprockets are easily accessible for routine maintenance



❿ AUGER BEARINGS
- Nylon bearings, with polyethylene and rubber quad seals, provide simplicity long-life, and help prevent oil bath contamination

[A] Only on certain models, check spec page for more information
[B] Except models 8032 high flotation and 8040
[C] Shield removed for illustration only Do not operate without shields in place and functioning

One serious spreader

When your spreader is hauling a lot of weight, you shouldn't have to worry about poor construction.

New Holland puts a lot of steel in the right places... then guarantees their spreaders in writing for 12 years. Free sides or floors if they fail.

The sides are made of smooth, corrosion-resistant steel. The nearly indestructible floor boards are made of high-tech plastic recycled from water and milk jugs.

NEW HOLLAND

Smooth on the inside for easy clean-out, New Holland spreader boxes have extra steel frame members for hauling really heavy loads.

Take a serious look at New Holland 155 Spreader today!

Here's why:

- 5-bar pickup handles bigger windrows, faster speeds
- Simple, horizontal bale-starting system is designed for fast starts
- Bottom drum design lets you pull in hay faster, often allowing you to drive a full gear faster
- Best HaySaver Wheels in the field
- Up to 1200 lbs. in a single 65" dia. x 48" wide package; 2000 lb capacity with silage baler option
- Silage option lets you bale wet or dry without changing a thing
- Make bales 17% larger* than a standard 5' dia. x 4' wide baler at virtually the same price!*

Cut-Out Clutch Protection
No more burnt or hot discs to wrestle with Great protection for those times when your baler's pulling harder on the outside rows, the tractor's overpowered, or you accidently overfill when trying to bale that last strip of hay  determined by comparing volume measurement of a standard 60' dia x 48" wide bale versus a 65 dia x 48 wide Vermeer bale*

 Price comparison is based on published list prices (Y2000) between Vermeer 554XL Series Baler and other 5 x 4 competitive round baler models*

Vermeer

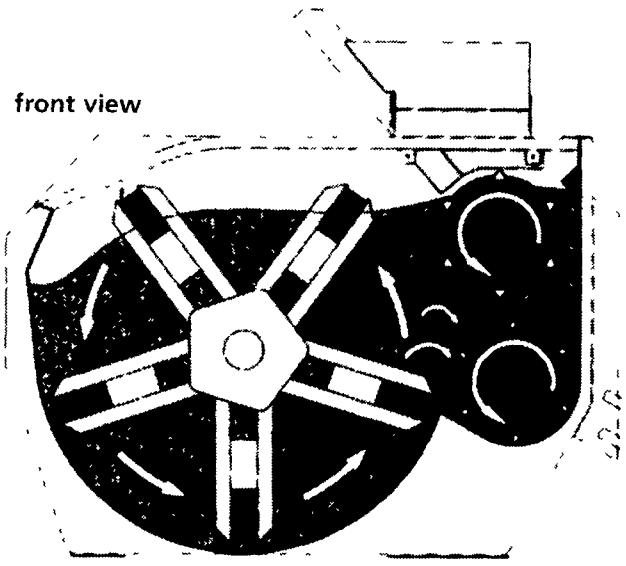
KNIGHT . . . the REEL Advantage

A Faster, More Thorough Mix

front view



The large-diameter reel provides a gentle tumbling action and the two side augers produce an end-to-end blending action. This unique combination ensures faster mixing and unloading times, and a very thorough mix, even when mixing small batches.

3000 Series Reel TMR Mixers

NEW HOLLAND

Forrester Farm Equipment was established in 1976 at 1337 LWE East, selling and servicing used tractors in the area. Dedicated to providing his customers with the best in customer satisfaction, Jay Forrester grew his business. Today we carry on his tradition by providing our customers with the type of service they have learned to expect from Forrester Farm Equipment. In addition to your satisfaction, New Holland has awarded us with the coveted President's Prestige Award for outstanding achievement in business management and customer satisfaction. In 2003, we will work even harder to provide you with the excellent products, service and support you've come to expect.

The Model 956 round baler is one of seven all new round balers from Hesston.

New 900 Series Hesston Round Balers Improve Service And Reliability

ATLANTA, Ga.—Improved serviceability, increased reliability and enhanced hay handling all add up to "operator friendly" with the new 900 Series Round Balers from Hesston.

The new designs include the 945 and 945 Silage Special (4' × 5' bale); 955 (5' × 5' bale); 946 Auto Cycle™ and 946 Auto Cycle™ Silage Special (4' × 6' bale); and the 956 and 956 Auto Cycle™ (5' × 6' bale).

"Hesston has built its reputation around crop friendly handling equipment," says Steve Reiling, Hesston product manager, AGCO Corporation. "With the 900 Series, we have made improvements that not only enhance productivity, but also make the operator's job easier. Servicing is simpler with the new one-piece side door design. Other changes that increase reliability and improve crop handling mean more time in the cab, less on the ground and more bales per hour."

Servicing the 900 Series is a breeze, even in a breeze, thanks to the angled hinges that use the side doors' own weight to help keep them open. Should the breeze pick up, a handy lock rod keeps the door from blowing shut during servicing. Belts are now easier to service as well, thanks to the new alligator rivet style lacing which allows repairs to be made in the field.

Other new features, such as the windguard and pickup flares, are designed to reduce the wind's affect on operation and improve material feed into the baler. The rear pivoting windguard can be easily adjusted up or down according to crop height. Windguard tines move the crop smoothly up and into the baler, controlling it up to the time it is rolled onto the bale.

"We also added side panels and pickup flares to the 900 Series pickup," says Jeff Noll, Hesston sales engineer. "They reduce the effect of cross winds and help the windrow feed evenly across the pickup and not bunch in the center."

Productivity Grows With Case IH SDX40 Single Disk Drill

RACINE, Wis. — Borrowing from the same proven design as the popular Case IH SDX30 single disk no-till air drill, the SDX40 offers large producers in high-residue conditions increased productivity with the same reliability. Add to that, the ability to deliver more precise seed placement and depth control, and the Case IH SDX40 drill is positioned to be the new leader in precision seeding equipment.

"We are the first in the industry to offer flexible rank down-pressure adjustments for optimum seed placement," says Jacky Payne, marketing training manager for Case IH seeders and chisel plows. "The operator can adjust the down pressure to each rank independently for varied depth applications, or, you could completely lock up a rank to change row spacing and configurations, to match your specifications."

The Case IH single disk no-till opener featured on the SDX40 is the best in its class for depth control accuracy, seed placement consistency, and low furrow sidewall compaction.

Seeding depth adjustments are made easily and safely from either the front or back of the machine without any tools. Simply move the depth handle to the desired setting seed, from zero to 3.5 inches. Depth adjustments can be made in as little as quarter-inch increments, especially helpful for small-seeded crops like grass and canola. Down pressure can be adjusted from 250 to 510 pounds per opener.

"In high residue conditions, Case IH SDX drills cut through residue and leave a clean furrow for superior seed-to-soil contact and improved germination," says Payne. "We use the industry's largest diameter disk at 22.5 inches positioned at a 5-degree compound angle to cut through residue, rather than push it, and we employ the proven Early Riser gauge wheel found on Case IH planters to hold moist soil in reserve."

With the help of a wear-resistant steel scraper, a narrow 1.25-inch seed furrow is formed. A narrow furrow means less soil and residue movement and reduced sidewall compaction. Each seed is placed on a "shelf" created by the scraper. This "seed shelf" has less foreign material (soil particles, residue, etc.) than the bottom of the furrow created by the disc. Also, because of the way the scraper opens the slot, the "seed shelf" has minimal sidewall compaction, meaning the germinating seed's tap root meets little resistance penetrating the soil. This allows the SDX opener to maintain a consistent seeding depth, improve seed-to-soil contact and reduce the time it takes for roots to enter the soil all working together to maximize crop emergence.

Once soil contact is achieved, SDX Series single disk drills close the row using a superior packing system. Variable settings for packer wheel location in half-inch increments allow the user to pack directly over the row or up to 2 inches off to the side. Multiple packing pressure settings of 30, 45 and 60 pounds create flexibility for seeding a variety of crops.

ABS Reliability Yields Second Crop Success

DEFOREST, Wis. — ABS sires continued to exceed expectations. ABS Reliability is designed to insure stable, accurate, and more consistent type proofs. Rock Solid Genetics™ (RSG™), sires with 100 daughter in 60 herds, are proven to be more resistant to change.

Based upon a comparative study of 738 active bulls in November 2002, the Type values of the bulls that met the Rock Solid requirements changed by only .25 as compared to .49 of the bulls that did not meet the requirements. Producers are now using Rock Solid bulls to add value through longevity to their dairy operations.

As always 29 H8343 Wa-Del CONVINCER-ET*cv remains upon Holstein Associations Top 100 TPI List. CONVINCER gained in milk and fat production and earned a lower Calving Ease score of 7%, while continuing to produce stylish daughters with welded on udders.

29 H8538 Regancrest RBK DIE-HARD-ET is on his way to global greatness with increases in Milk, Fat, Protein, and Productive Life. As a 6% Calving Ease sire DIE-HARD is great for heifer pens, while his daughters are becoming critical additions dairy herds around the world.

Adding 391 daughters and gaining 400 pounds of milk moved 29 H8614 Starky Merr MARATHON to an elite Net Merit level. MARATHON is also a 6% Calving Ease sire who goes the distance in improving udders, feet, and legs.

Another udder improver who gained nearly 500 daughters in his proof is 29 H8338 Wil-Hart ALVIN-ET. ALVIN insures maximum udder improvement with strong clefts and very shallow udder depth with a +2.47 UDC.

Striving to become a vital part of every operation 29 H8246 Fustead VITAL SIGN*cv increased his milk proof by nearly 400 pounds to +2263 PTAM and continues to significantly improve udders. VITAL SIGN is also a noted Calving Ease Sire at 8%.

29 H8357 Cedar-Creek BERGWILL-ET*cv gained additional daughters and increased his yield traits while improving his PTAT and Foot and Leg Composition to +1.97.

"Our Rock Solid™ Program continues to yield impressive results," states Dairy Product Manager, Scott Bentley. "The second crop bulls are consistently producing daughters that meet or exceed their first crop evaluations. ABS Reliability has become an important selection tool for dairy producers."

Kubota Sales Demand New Assembly Facility

OAKWOOD, Ga. — Kubota Tractor Corporation (KTC) will increase its Georgia presence with an eight million dollar capital investment for the development of a 53-acre commercial site in Oakwood. Two operations will be located at the site. Kubota's first separate tractor and equipment assembly plant in the United States and the new Kubota Technical & Marketing Center.

The completed assembly facility will be 176,000 square feet. "Our initial goals are to build this new facility and shift assembly from our Southeast Division Assembly Department in Suwanee. This will allow the Suwanee facility to concentrate on parts and whole goods storage and distribution, both critical functions for Kubota and its dealers.

Even more important is the ability to support anticipated sales growth and service to our dealers through increased assembly capacity and productivity," said Nobu Toshikuni, President, Kubota Tractor Corporation.

The latest concepts in assembly line management will be in place when operations begin early next year. Concentration will be on the assembly of M-Series tractors and tractor/loader/backhoes. An important plus for Kubota dealers will be the ability to order M-Series with the loader installed. This will enable faster delivery of the product to the customer, and save time and labor in the dealer's service shop.

The Kubota Technical & Marketing Center (KTMC) will be comprised of offices within the Assembly facility and a 32-acre site for testing and development of products. Initially, KTMC will concentrate on products for residential and commercial grounds care customers.

With the Oakwood addition, Georgia will host the majority of Kubota's manufacturing and assembly business in the United States. Kubota Manufacturing of America (KMA) is located in Gainesville and manufactures and assembles Kubota equipment, including loaders and backhoes, lawn and garden tractors, sub-compact tractors, and zero turn mowers. Kubota's Southeast Division in Suwanee serves dealers in 11 states and has a parts and whole goods warehouse, in addition to finance, sales, service, and distribution functions.

The Western Division Assembly Department in Stockton, California will continue to assemble M Series and tractor/loader/backhoes for the dealers in the 11 Western states. The new Oakwood plant will serve the balance of Kubota's dealers in the United States.

Hippen Named Vice-President Of Sales For Bou-Matic

MADISON, Wis. — Bou-Matic, a dairy equipment manufacturer based in Madison, has announced the addition of Jack Hippen to its staff in the capacity of vice-president of sales worldwide and will be based out of Madison, Wisconsin.

Hippen previously worked for Bou-Matic in the role of district sales manager and western regional manager and brings with him a wealth of knowledge gathered through 18 years of work in the dairy industry. Hippen holds a degree in Agricultural Economics from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and an MBA from Edgewood College, Madison.

Swift And Company Joins Certified Hereford Beef Program

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Swift and Company, the nation's third-largest beef processor, has signed a licensing agreement with Certified Hereford Beef (CHB) LLC to expand the sales and production of CHB products.

Officials from both companies are working together to commence sales and production of CHB by April 2003.

"Certified Hereford Beef products are a good fit with Swift and Company's branded beef programs," said David Colwell, vice president for customer marketing and development, Swift and Company.

"This is a tremendous milestone for the program," says Rob Ames, program director of CHB LLC. "This partnership will allow us to greatly expand our program and offer its unique advantages to a new retail clientele."

Certified Hereford Beef was established in 1995 to market the superior quality of beef from Hereford and Hereford crossbred cattle. The USDA Certified program had boxed beef sales of 27.9 million pounds from the 99,249 carcasses certified in 2002.

CHB LLC is a wholly owned subsidiary of the American Hereford Association. Sales of CHB have increased at an annual rate of 30 percent since 1997.

Swift and Company is the United States third-largest processor of fresh beef and pork products, and the leading beef processor in Australia.

EVERLAST II EVERLAST II EVERLAST II
Metal Roofs Aren't Created Equal
EVERLAST II IS BETTER:
- it is galvanized heavier, like old times.
- it is heat formed, less paint cracks.
- is cut while hot, prevents early edge rust.
- won't scratch as easy, paint is harder.
- won't bend or buckle as easy, stronger design.
- laps are tighter, and virtually invisible.
- nail/screws seal better, ribs fit tighter to head.
- zinc phosphate, not chromate under paint.
- still priced about the same or less.

EVERLAST II
is excellent for houses and barns.
DOUBLE DIPPED GALVANIZED is proven best for animals.
STANDING SEAM
is ideal for houses.

Custom Built Pole Buildings

- Pole Buildings - A pole building is typically built by drilling a hole 36" to 48" in depth, making sure we are below the frost line, in at least an 18" diameter hole. In the bottom of the hole a concrete footing is used to support each individual pole. The pole is placed in the hole with a minimum of .60 CCA treatment to insure against insect and moisture decay.
- The structure is then framed with 2x4 SPF #2 or better, on 24" centers for wind and diaphragm strength for the building.
- The RigidPly Rafters engineered trusses are set 48" center-to-center on top of a double header system made of MSR (Machine stress rated) lumber. This double MSR header system carries the snow and roof loads to the footers and the ground.
- Painted FABRAL Steel roofing and siding is screw fastened to the purlins and girts at 9" centers to help secure the metal to the structure for winds over 120 mile per hour.
- Wayne Dalton garage doors are expertly hung in the proper locations to provide easy opening and closing.
- Plyco products such as ridge vents and cupolas are installed for proper air flow and condensation control.

- Serving PA, NJ, DE, MD, VA, WV, and NY
- Company crews for quick service & quality construction
- Professional Sales and Marketing Team
- Building Excellence Since 1989!

What's against soft paint?

In metal roofing and siding some manufacturers use soft pliable paint to prevent cracks. The disadvantage with softer paint is that it scratches so easy Handling during erection, flying debris during storms, children playing against it, etc can easily scratch softer paint Scratches on softer paints tend to rust prematurely Everlast heat forms to prevent this Ask our competition if they heat form. It's important.

Metal Roofing & Siding

The Ultimate G-100 Process

"The Best"

1 Valspar 10S Finish Coat
2 Epoxy Primer
3 Zinc Phosphate Pretreatment
4 G-100 Zinc Coating
5 Full Hard Steel (80 000 min yield)
6 Heat formed less paint cracks

NOTE! It is more important what is under the paint than what you see on top!

1 One of the best paints, superior acid rain, cracking resistance and color retention
2 Primer coat promotes outstanding top coat adhesion
3 Zinc phosphate pretreatment This is a very important process - if your current supplier cannot supply you with this or does not know you should reconsider
4 G-100 Galvanized Most metal roofing has approx 40% less galvanized under the paint G-100 is more galvanized than most unpainted panels
5 Full Hard Anything less than full hard will bend easier lower snow loads, etc
6 Heat formed Metal is painted before ribs are formed Most paint cracks at bends heat forming greatly reduces cracks (check metal siding that is installed for 5-10 years)
7 Stronger design, superior strength more metal per L F
8 Add Everything Together And Price Should Be $53 37 Per Square $1 69 Per L F

OUR SPECIAL PRICE ONLY
$48.32 PER SQUARE

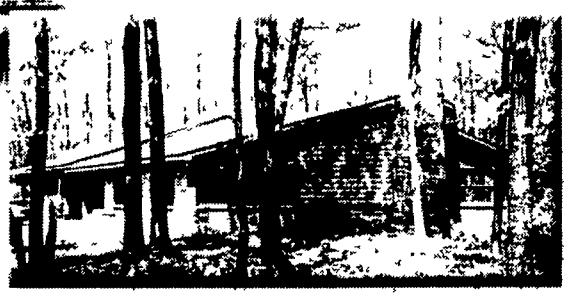
FOR SALE:

Trophy Whitetail Hunting Operation

Bakersville, PA



Have you always wanted to operate your very own trophy whitetail ranch? Well here's your chance. The Highlands has gained a world-class reputation for producing some of the biggest trophy whitetail bucks in the country. Over five miles of game-proof fence (ten-feet high) surround the perimeter of this 800-acre ranch that is conveniently located in the Laurel Mountains of Somerset County, PA (about an hour southeast of Pittsburgh.)

The 4,000 square foot lodge can comfortably sleep up to 16 guests and includes four full baths and two half-baths, a commercial kitchen and large great room with massive fireplace. Also included is a 2-bedroom A-frame cottage and numerous out-buildings and fishing ponds. The ranch adjoins the Hidden Valley ski and golf resort and can serve as a perfect family or corporate retreat in addition to trophy whitetail hunting.

If you want to continue to operate the deer hunting business commercially we will give you a ready-made list of hundreds of our customers and thousands of prospects that we have compiled over the past seven seasons. Or, you can just keep the ranch for yourself, your family and friends as a private, year-around retreat. A long-term lease will ensure your enjoyment for years to come. Offered at $395,000. ShowTec® Powerful Performance 2002

PA Farm Show Grand Champion & Reserve Champion Market Swine purchase their feeds from Yachere Mobile Feed (814-926-3493) in Rockwood, PA. Yachere also had Reserve Grand Champion @ Somerset & Bedford Country, along with Champion and Reserve Champion @ Garrett Co.

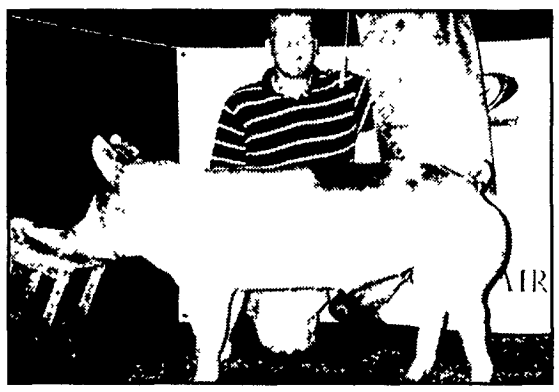
Keystone International Livestock Expo
Doug Catalano exhibited the Reserve Grand Champion Barrow and the Grand Champion Truckload at the Keystone International Livestock Exposition on October 5, 2002. Doug used ShowTec starter pellets and ShowTec Mintrate® for his champions. Doug receives his feed from C & C Enterprises in Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania. Great job, Doug!

North American International Livestock Expo
Spencer Malcolm from Huntertown, Indiana, won Reserve Grand Champion Market Hog at the NAILE in Louisville, Kentucky, on November 11, 2002. Spencer's champion was fed 292, 272, 11273 and 263 for 160 days. Spencer receives sales and service from his father Steve Malcolm of Huntertown, Indiana. Congratulations, Spencer!



Ohio State Fair
AJ Genter, a member of the Pettisville FFA Chapter exhibited the Reserve Grand Champion Barrow at the 2002 Ohio State Fair on August 11, 2002. AJ fed his winner ShowTec products 10194 and 11256. AJ and his family also receive sales and service from the late Everett Ricker of Archbold, Ohio. Great job, AJ!

Ohio State Fair
Taylor Creager, who is a member of the Clinton Doodle Bugs 4-H Club showed the Grand Champion Barrow at the 2002 Ohio State Fair. The Grand Champion hog was fed ShowTec 272, 277, and 11256. Taylor and her family receive sales and service from the late Everett Ricker of Archbold, Ohio. Congratulations, Taylor!
